

JAPANESE CAPTURE AN IMPORTANT POINT

TOKIO, Nov. 5, 4 p. m.—It is reported that the Japanese have occupied Wan Tai Hill, sunk several transports and have set fire to a battleship at Port Arthur. There is no confirmation of the report.

ELECTRIC CARS IN COLLISION.

Forty Persons Injured in an Accident at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, November 5.—At least forty persons were injured, some of them seriously, in a rear-end collision on the Long Beach electric road at 7 o'clock this morning.

The car from this city to Long Beach had stopped at a crossing just this side of Compton to take on a passenger. There was a dense fog prevailing. The car contained thirty-three passengers. Hardly had it stopped when a work car, containing about forty Mexican laborers, and two foremen, which had been closely following, crashed into it at full speed. Not a person on the passenger car escaped injury and some of them have received frightful cuts and bruises.

Motorman Seamans, of the work car, was badly and perhaps fatally injured. He stuck to his post, and yelled to the men on his car to jump. Some of them did so, and were injured in that way.

A car bound to this city from Long Beach was stopped opposite the wreck, and many of the injured were placed aboard of it. While standing there a work car which had been following it through the fog bumped into it, and more people were injured, some of those who had received injuries in the first collision being again injured in the second one.

So far there have been no fatalities, and the injured are being brought to the hospitals in this city as fast as possible.

Both the cars in the first collision were smashed to kindling wood and the passenger car which received the impact of the second accident was badly shattered but was run to the city.

The injured:

Motorman Seamans of the work car, body badly crushed, will probably die.

Thomas Wilkinson, foreman of construction, leg broken.

Oscar Dalton, shoulder dislocated.

Thomas Galvin, foreman, ankle injured, cheeks torn open.

M. Dalton, scalp cut, wrist broken.

J. W. Dalton, neck cut, shoulder sprained.

N. A. Dalton, leg bruised.

James Lorenzo, arm sprained.

Joseph Lorenzo, leg injured.

E. C. Mitchell, right ear torn, body bruised.

Allan Shaw, leg sprained, hand

GOVERNOR TELLS OF PROGRESS

Issues the Annual Proclamation For Thanksgiving.

SACRAMENTO, November 5.—Governor Pardee today issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"Whereas, The people of the State of California are peculiarly blessed in a beautiful land, favored beyond measure a land where the best things of every clime are plentifully at hand, and Providence has guided us to build a commonwealth founded firm in the principles of Magna Charta and the moral law, so that today we are a contented people, secure in our liberties, same and God-fearing in our daily life, without disastrous inner dissensions or class strife and amenable at all times to the dictates of Justice and the rules of fair dealing, and

"Whereas, We have had during the past year bountiful harvests of many kinds, our varied manufacturing industries are prospering, and our material welfare generally is greater than ever before, with possibilities more hopeful and alluring than those vouchsafed to any other people wheresoever situated, and

"Whereas, We realize that all we are and all we have as a people is by favor of the all-loving God whose continuous care is the basis of our welfare, now,

"Therefore, I, George C. Pardee, Governor of the State of California, in accordance with custom and with the proclamation of the President of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November, A. D., 1904, as a public holiday on which day all public and all but the most necessary private business should be laid aside in order that our people may have opportunity to offer up their thanks to God for His past mercies, and, as one people, supplicate for the continuance of His favors."

BIG RALLY AT SAN LEANDRO.

The Roosevelt and Fairbanks Club of San Leandro will entertain the voters of that section of the country this evening with a rally and smoker at the City Hall to-night. Cards have been sent to every voter in the section to be present without regard to party affiliations to come and meet their neighbors and smoke the pipe of peace in comfort while singers and spellbinders will afford amusement and entertainment and make the occasion a memorable one.

The issues of the present campaign will be ably handled by Judge Henry Melvin, Lin Church and Attorney Peter Crosby. All of these gentlemen are noted for their ability and oratory and will doubtless sustain their reputations in this line.

Then Charles Reid, San Leandro's song bird, will render numerous vocal selections and there will also be instrumental music and a profitable evening is assured all who attend.

cut.

M. Anderson, face cut, hip injured.

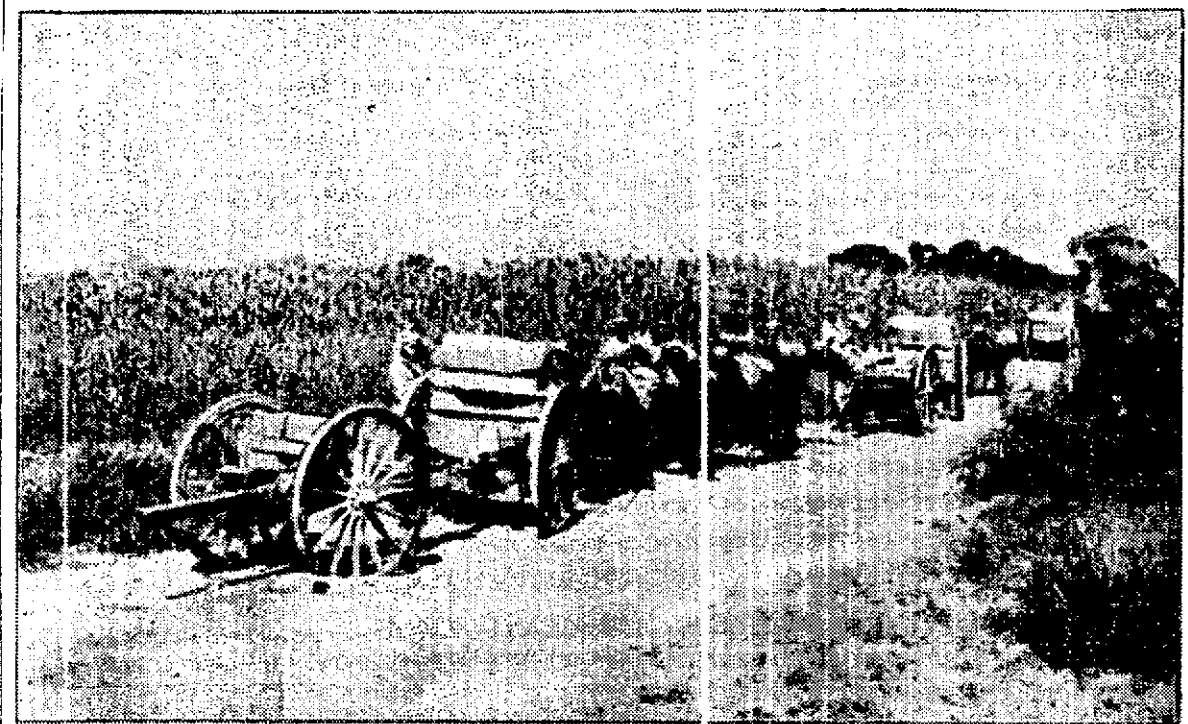

Jack Barnett, badly bruised about head.

Thomas Mulligan, bruised on body.

About twenty Mexican laborers,

all more or less injured.

RUSSIANS ARE CHARGED WITH KILLING WOUNDED.

JAPANESE BATTERY ADVANCING UNDER COVER OF THE MILLET AT MOTIENLING PASS TO ATTACK RUSSIAN POSITIONS.

Japanese Are Confining Themselves to Night Attacks on Enemy.

TOKIO, November 5, 8 p. m.—A statement issued from Imperial headquarters tonight charges the Russians defending Port Arthur with the misuse of Red Cross badges and with the maltreatment or killing of Japanese wounded.

It is charged that the Russians sent armed men wearing Red Cross badges into the Japanese lines ostensibly for the purpose of seeking their wounded, but really with the object of reconnoitering the Japanese positions, and that for this reason the Japanese decided to consent to short armistices in order that the wounded might be succored and the dead buried.

The statement instances the case of a Japanese hospital orderly who was wounded and left on the field, where the Russians stripped him of his badge and killed him. A wounded Japanese private, who was left on the field during the earlier charge on the eastern group of forts of Kekwan mountain and who lay there for hours, simulating death when the Russians were near, reports that the Russians bayoneted and shot the wounded comrades near him, and that they struck and robbed him.

ARMIES ARE NOW CLOSE TOGETHER

MUKDEN, November 5, via Peking.—The Russian and Japanese armies are now so close together that maneuvering is almost impossible.

The Japanese are confining themselves to occasional night attacks, during which they shell the villages occupied by the Russians. In these attacks they wounded several Russian officers.

In return, parties of Russians have penetrated the Japanese villages at night causing temporary panics.

On one occasion the Russians succeeded in throwing two bombs into the Japanese officers' quarters.

It has been reported here that the Japanese would determinedly attack Port Arthur on November 8, the Japanese Emperor's birthday, and it is believed that Field Marshal Oyama is awaiting news of the result of this attack before advancing against General Kuropatkin.

The Japanese already have received large reinforcements.

After a week of almost spring-like weather, the thermometer fell 20 degrees last night, and the first snow of the season is falling today.

HE HAD NO MONEY AND TOOK POISON.

Graduate of Royal University Dies at Emergency Hospital Across Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 5.—Dr. Jacobus Pollatsck, a graduate of the Royal University of Hungary at Buda Pest, died to-day at the Harbor Emergency Hospital, from the effects of poison taken with suicidal intent.

He had evidently been in straitened financial circumstances.

Among his effects was a paper showing that he had served for ten years as surgeon with the French troops in Algiers and had been resident physician of the French Government at Port Said.

There was also a testimonial regretting his departure from Egypt, signed by the French Consul-

BANCROFT TO TAKE OFFICE

Appointed Acting Manager of the Southern Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—W. H. Bancroft has been appointed acting manager of the Southern Pacific, and will assume the duties of his office on November 15th.

He entered the railroad service as a telegraph operator and ticket agent and has filled many positions of prominence.

He served as receiver of the Denver & Rio Grande, and was in charge of the Union Pacific after the resignation of President Burt.

About two years ago he became manager of the Oregon Short Line.

DENIES RUSSIAN CHARGE.

Japanese Did Not Plan Attack on the Czar's Fleet.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, asked by a representative of the Associated Press for a statement regarding the report current at St. Petersburg that the Japanese Minister at The Hague had organized an attack on the Russian squadron, emphatically denied that any action had been taken at The Hague. He said:

"In their daily, different explanations the Russians alternately credit us with supernatural cleverness and foolishness. If people would only stop to think they would see that it would be almost suicidal for us to risk the friendship of any power by an attempt to destroy the Russian squadron from a neutral port, when it is to our utmost advantage that the squadron should arrive in our own waters under its present Admiral."

WILL DIVIDE THE RIDGE.

JAPANESE MAKE IMPORTANT CAPTURE AT PORT ARTHUR.

TOKIO, November 5.—Wan Tai Hill, which has been captured by the Japanese, is one of the extensive semicircle of forts defending Port Arthur. It is situated in about the center of the semicircle between the Antze mountain forts and Sungchow forts, which is situated on an adjoining hill.

The capture of Wan Tai hill, it has been pointed out in dispatches from Port Arthur, means the dividing of the eastern fortified ridge.

The Japanese had previously and unsuccessfully attacked Wan Tai Hill, particularly during the latter part of August.

WANT PARDON FOR A WOMAN

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 5.—Governor Pardee has been petitioned to pardon Mrs. Margaret E. Gallivan, who is serving a six months' term in the San Francisco County Jail on a misdemeanor charge.

The woman is a victim of drink and her friends claim that if she is released from jail they will take her to San Jose where she will be properly cared for.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

SACRAMENTO, November 5.—Henry Jones, convicted of burglary in the first degree, was sentenced by Superior Judge E. C. Hart today to fifteen years (the limit) at San Quentin.

STEAMERS SUNK IN HARBOR.

Japanese Fire on Port Arthur is Effective.

TOKIO, November 5, 2 p. m.—Delayed advices forwarded from Port Arthur between November 2 and November 4 say that two steamers of about 3500 tons each anchored in the west harbor were sunk by the Japanese heavy guns November 1 and that the following day another steamer of 3000 tons was also sunk. Two Russians recently came in and surrendered to the Japanese at a place south of Suishiyang.

Two great explosions, apparently of magazines, were heard November 2 near Yuahpaofang.

On the night of November 3 the Japanese occupied a fort since called Ichinobe, owing to the fact that it had been bravely captured by that General. Three field guns, two machine guns, three torpedoes and many other trophies were captured. The Russians left forty dead.

A vigorous bombardment with naval guns was delivered at noon November 3 against the east harbor, dock-yard and other points, as a result of which a fierce conflagration occurred near the east harbor. The fire raged from 12:15 p. m. to 4 o'clock. The same day the fire of large caliber guns was directed against "H" fort at a height of 200 yards and the northwest watch-tower. Heavy damage was caused by the bombardment on both the fort and tower. A Russian field gun placed at a vital point east of Kekwan mountain was struck by a Japanese shell and destroyed.

PYTHIANS TO HEAR CHARGES

RICHMOND, Nov. 5.—Charles E. Shively, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the World, to-day named a military commission to investigate the charge of partiality brought against General James R. Carnahan, head of the uniform rank. The charges were in connection with the awards in the drill contests at the biennial convention of the order at Louisville last August. The commission will meet at Indianapolis, November 15th.

RUSSIA ACCEPTS DRAFT OF THE CONVENTION.

Final Exchanges of Commission of Inquiry Into North Sea Affair Will Be Ratified.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 5, 1:41 p. m.—Russia has accepted the telegraphic draft of the Anglo-Russian convention for the commission of inquiry into the North Sea incident, submitted in these dispatches at the time, and the final exchanges will be ratified in London. The convention covers six articles as previously forecasted from here.

The commission will sit in Paris and will consist of five members, Russian, British, American and French, the representatives of these four nations to choose the fifth man. Broad outlines for the inquiry are laid down by the convention, but the commission will have wide latitude in determining all the relevant facts. Although the convention is agreed to, it is believed that some minor matters connected with the subject, the exact nature of which cannot be ascertained, are still undecided.

The Associated Press has strong reason to believe that the letter from Vigo published in the Novoe Vremya this morning represents practically the substance of Vice-Admiral Rojstvensky's detailed report submitted to Emperor Nicholas to-day by Captain Clado. Indeed, it is almost certain that the letter was written by Captain Clado himself. It has attracted much attention, being accepted by the public as well as by the Novoe Vremya as the complete Russian version of the North Sea incident.

Commenting editorially on the letter the Novoe Vremya declares it shows it was not a case of panic, nor of the misreading of signals, but of cool calculation of the time for the arrival of the torpedo boats after they were sighted by the Russian transport. The Novoe Vremya says the commission will have an opportunity of seeing the wireless messages on the subject.

Four points of the Russia's case, as presented simultaneously by special dispatches from Paris to two papers here, which bear evidence that they came from inspired sources, are as follows.

1. Information which reached Vice-Admiral Rojstvensky as he was leaving British waters showing that suspicious vessels were in the North Sea, navigating first under one flag and then under another.

2. The transport Kamtcheka reported by wireless telegraph some time before the incident occurred, that she had seen two torpedo-boats. (The Kamtcheka being then thirty miles behind the squadron.)

3. Pious wireless message signed: "Kamtcheka" asking for the exact latitude and longitude of the squadron, a message which it was afterwards ascertained was never sent by the Kamtcheka.

4. Then the appearance of two torpedo boats alongside the squadron, which could not have been Russian, as all the Russian torpedo boats were then in the English channel. The squadron did not fire until the torpedo boats were seen. The fact that only seven torpedo boats are now with the squadron, whereas eight left Libau is explained by the fact that one of them broke down before the squadron left Danish waters and was towed back to Libau by the Russian ice-breaker Ermark.

The reports of British warships following up the various divisions of the Russian squadron are creating intense irritation here. The Soviet says:

"The shadowing of the Russian squadron by British cruisers cannot go on. This game must be stopped and the sooner the better."

GIRL SWEARS OUT WARRANTS.

SAYS FOUR BOYS AND ANOTHER GIRL FOUGHT HER.

Ethel Russell, a fourteen-year-old girl, this morning swore to a complaint charging four boys with disturbing her peace and also to a complaint charging Miss Violet Hemmold, aged eighteen years, residing at Twenty-eighth and Grove streets, with battery.

The younger girl says that she was placed, scratched and finally hit in the eye by the older girl for an apparent reason. She alleges that the four boys, whose names she does not know, afterward harassed her and annoyed her by insulting epithets.

The complaining witness resides with her father at 1847 Grove street, where he conducts a grocery store.

GOES ON THE STAGE

Miss Amy Schimpff, a pretty girl of this city, has gone on the stage. Miss Schimpff left this city yesterday to join the Cooley Company, now playing at Visalia.

JOHN FREY DIES.

John Frey, aged 36 years, died last night at Fabiola Hospital after a prolonged illness. He was a resident of San Pablo where his remains will be forwarded for interment. He leaves a widow and seven children.

WEDDING RECEPTION.

A wedding reception is to be given Miss Minnie Thompson and Frank Barnett, Thursday evening, at 8 to 11 p. m., at 49 Eleventh street.

PREPARING FOR MEETING.

PLAN FOR GREAT GATHERING OF UNION MEN ON NOVEMBER 15.

At the adjourned meeting last night of the committee appointed to prepare for the great union mass meeting of November 15, only about fifteen members were present. There was very little business transacted and that unimportant.

The sub-committee on procuring a hall reported that they had not yet been able to secure a suitable building, but hoped to have one by the next meeting. The other committees on music and printing had no report to make.

The mass meeting is going to be a large affair at which many of the delegates from all sections of the United States to the convention of the American Federation of Labor now being held in San Francisco will be present. President Compers is expected to speak and probably all of the eight vice-presidents of the organization will address the Alameda County members.

In all likelihood several thousands of people will attend the mass meeting. Preparations are going busy forward for the French dinner to be given by the Ice and Mineral Wagon Drivers Local No. 610 to the managers of the various ice companies. A very friendly feeling now exists between the employers and employees in this branch of industry. Messrs Selna and Ramassy, the committee in charge, are to be complimented upon the quickness of their preparations.

The Shinglers' Union No. 1 and the Executive Committee of the Building Trades Council held their regular meeting last night in Kohler and Chase Hall. No very important actions were reported of either assembly.

Only seventeen members of the Provision Trades Council appeared at the regular meeting in Cooks and Walters Hall last night. The assembly soon adjourned.

WHISKY COST $60 A PINT.

GEORGE EVERS SWALLOWS EVIDENCE AFTER STEALING FLASK OF BOURBON.

George J. Evers is a man of great and unsuitable thirst, so he told Police Judge Samuels this morning. Yesterday he entered the saloon of J. J. Arena, 661 Broadway, and stole a flask of whisky. The proprietor saw him and followed him for a block. When the thirsty individual saw that he was caught he tried to swallow the evidence against him. He drank the whisky and then smashed the bottle on the sidewalk.

The proprietor gathered up the fragments and brought them along with Evers to the city prison. This morning the defendant told Judge Samuels that he could not help it. He was fined $50, with the alternative of spending thirty days in prison.

"That is $50 a pint for whisky," remarked the prisoner with a grin. He chose to serve the thirty days not having the necessary money.

BOARD OF TRADE HOLDS MEETING

At the meeting of the Directors of the Board of Trade last evening Messrs C. J. Heesman, Emil Lehnardt, R. P. M. Greeley, Stuart W. Booth and A. E. Carner were appointed delegates to the annual meeting of the California Miners Association to be held at the Hotel St. Francis, December 5th to 8th, inclusive.

Secretary Edwin Stearns was appointed the representative of the Board of the Alameda County Promotion Committee.

Fifteen applications for membership in the Board were received and under a suspension of the rules the applicants were elected. The Secretary was instructed to call a special meeting of the Harbor and Water Front committee for a conference with Secretary of Labor and Commerce Victor J. Metcalf during his coming visit to this city on proposed deepening of the channel to the uniform depth of thirty feet.

WAS NOT LOST; SIMPLY MISSING

S. J. Osbourne of 306 San Pablo avenue who was reported missing by his son yesterday, turned up quickly after the reported disappearance and denied that he was ever lost. He was merely detained one hour and fifteen minutes beyond his usual time. Owing to the fact that he is crippled in one leg and that he rode a bicycle his family had visions of him being run over by a street car.

THE HAZY DAYS.

These are the hazy days. The stubbled slopes are blue; The leaves are turning brown. Where nuts are dropping through. The sumac flames beside. The pathway through the woods. The distant peaks have donned. Their gauzy, purple hoods. The yellow-jackets swarm. Around the elder mills. All gold and crimson gleam. The orchards on the hills. The students hurry forth. In foolish mobs, to haze; Their victims black and blue— These are the hazy days. —Chicago Record-Herald.

BACK TO PAY THE MORTGAGE

Centerville Young Man Comes Home to Meet Debt.

With the savings of four years of service on different battlefields of the country, J. J. Angelus of Centerville who was tried and acquitted of the charge of shooting old man John Soares in defense of his sister in 1900 returned home today, his term of enlistment having expired. He paid off the mortgage on the old home place which was contracted in order to pay the attorneys who ably defended his case.

Angelus was but eighteen years of age when he escaped a charge of murder and shortly after enlisted on the battleship Iowa and since then has made a creditable record for himself and seen service all over the world. All the time he had in mind the indebtedness hanging over the place he calls home, and with the expiration of his term he had to his credit with the government a sufficient sum to liquidate the claim. This morning he appeared at the office of Gibson Woolner and Barker and satisfied a mortgage for $250 with interest.

The occurrence recalls a peculiar crime and an odd defense. Angelus is now on a little farm near Centerville with his two sisters. Not far away lived old John Soares, 62 years of age and the father of a family of eight children. He began paying attention to Marie Angelus, the favorite sister of her brother and one night the old man was coming in at the front gate. The bullet struck him in the side and broke several ribs and made wounds which caused his death within the statutory period of one year and a charge of murder was sworn to before the District Attorney.

Then appeared the peculiar feature of the case. The old man, in making a dying statement, swore that the girl was the one who had shot him while the brother conspired to the crime and it then transpired that the brother upon the evening in question had first made an engagement with the old man and then kept it himself dressed in his sister's clothes. There was a conflict of testimony as to what actually transpired at the meeting but Soares claimed that he discovered the deception before he reached the house and was shot from a distance. He declared that the girl was the one who had committed the deed.

Since then however Angelus has made a new record. His sister was with him thus morning, proud of her valor brother. He will stay at the old place on a visit until the old longing to be home more on the hearing willows takes possession of him and then he will re-list.

TALKED ABOUT THE TREATY.

SECRETARY HAY AND GERMAN AMBASSADOR DISCUSS ISSUE.

WASHINGTON, November 5.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay held an extended conference today relative to the proposed treaty of arbitration with Germany.

Early in the day Ambassador Speck von Sternberg called on Secretary Hay at the State Department to discuss with him in the initiation of the negotiations of the treaty.

At the conclusion of the conference Secretary Hay went to the White House where he discussed the subject with the President.

It is understood that the treaty between America and Germany will be modeled after that between America and France, which recently was signed by Ambassador Jusserand and Secretary Hay.

DAVIS AND OTT IN A BOUT

BREAK EVEN AFTER ONE ROUND AT LETTER WRITING.

Following is the Hon. William R. Davis' recent communication to Superintendent of Streets Ott, and that of Ott's reply.

"Oakland, Cal., Nov. 2, 1904. "Dear Supt. Streets—To say that I am delighted with the enclosed street assessment but states it in part—I am instructed and amused. "The way Lot 30 (Assessment No. 77) gets it in the face in the K-neck and in the slats is most artistic—in the face, because it fronts in the K-neck, because it sidesteps and in the slats, because it ducks around the corner to Seventeenth street. I never saw a prize fight, but from what has been done to that lot I infer that it has. Three kinds of basting it got. Can a lot be basted as to get four? If so point that lot out to me and I'll get it to be a companion and solace to this one.

Please receipt the bill and if you can, give me an Absent Treatment in your unofficial hours—don't consume the public's time on a job like that. Down with the knackers. Yours truly, "WM. R. DAVIS."

"Wm. R. Davis Esq., Dear Sir—With pleasure I acknowledge receipt of yours of the 2nd enclosing check for San Pablo avenue sewer assessment but the (up of happiness was not complete until second reading when I discovered the statement that you had never witnessed an encounter in the manly art. My first impression was that you occupied a front seat at the Britt-Gans go with possibly a small wager on the bruising son of Ham. I have looked up the location of your property and find that it—like the head of your esteemed friend, Frank Mott—fronts on two streets, hence the tripod assessment. I agree with you on the knocking proposition. Even the sign on my office door says, 'Enter without knocking.' I enclose receipt. Very truly, "CHAS. OTT."

RIOTING ON A LARGE SCALE.

INNESBRUCK, Nov. 5.—Rioting on a large scale re-commenced at noon, the gendarmes using their bayonets. Troops are coming in from a distance. There is some evidence that the authorities will proclaim martial law.

There is a body of troops posted in the neighborhood of the Italian consulate.

POSSES LOOK FOR BANDITS

CASPER, Wyo., Nov. 5.—Posses are still out in the vicinity of Thermopole looking for the two bandits who killed I. O. Middaugh, cashier of the First National Bank of Cody last Tuesday in an attempt to rob the bank but the report that the robbers have been trapped is denied.

MEET TO DISCUSS MISS GOULD'S RAILWAY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—Miss Helen M. Gould, representatives from nearly all railroad lines entering Union Station, and a number of prominent Y. M. C. DEMOCRATIC OFFICIALS MAKE A STATEMENT.

Tell of the Withdrawal of D. W. Cronin From the Supervisorial Contest.

The following letter is self-explanatory.

"Oakland, Nov. 4, 1904. "An open letter to the Democratic voters of the Fifth Supervisorial District of Alameda County. To the Democratic voters:—The Democratic County Convention held in Oakland in September last nominated for the office of Supervisor, from the Fifth Supervisorial district one D. W. Cronin. Prior to the convening of the convention one George Fitzgerald, a Republican, and an independent candidate for Supervisor, in said district sought the endorsement of the Democratic convention. His efforts were repulsed by the Democrats of said Supervisorial district who desired to nominate a Democrat. It was the spirit of the convention that Democrats be placed upon the ticket wherever it was possible to do so. The idea of endorsing a Republican was scouted on all sides, as two men, (Thomas Thompson and said Cronin) were enthusiastically seeking the nomination, and truly pluming for an opportunity to shed the last drop of their life's blood upon the altar of their Democracy.

"The contest between Thompson and Cronin was hot and promised to engender bitter factional feeling, but harmony and so that the Democratic nominee would present a united and unbroken front to his opponents. Cronin was unanimously nominated. "In open convention Cronin gave his solemn pledge that he was in the fight to win that he would not withdraw from the ticket but would steadfastly continue as a candidate until election day, all in accordance with the expressed wishes of the delegates composing said convention to the effect that Democrats should be nominated for office whenever possible. Notwithstanding his pledge, said Cronin withdrew from the ticket at the last moment, when it was too late for the Democratic County Committee to fill the vacancy. The withdrawal of Cronin under the circumstances, has given us to all sorts of rumor, the most persistent of which is to the effect that said withdrawal of Cronin was the result of compromise with and in the interest of said Fitzgerald.

"This letter is written for the purpose of advising the Democratic voters of said Supervisorial district of said Cronin's conduct in the premises, so that Democrats generally will know that the County Committee is not a party to any understanding between Messrs Fitzgerald and Cronin or the friends of either and to the end that the Democratic voters of said Fifth Supervisorial District may draw their own conclusions from the facts herein set forth, and cast their ballots on November 8 as their consciences shall dictate.

Dated, Oakland November 4, 1904. "A. F. ST. SURE, Vice Chairman of the Alameda County Democratic Central Committee. "J. J. MUMA, "Secretary."

ANXIOUS TO CONSIDER TREATY

JOHN MITCHELL DENOUNCES CAMPAIGN SLANDERS.

In Personal Letter to His Constituents, He Denies the Allegations of Anonymous Circulars.

Supervisor John Mitchell has addressed the following circular letter to his constituents:

Dear Sir:—I have resided in the Fifth Supervisorial District ever since I was a boy, a period of nearly twenty-eight years, and the record of my manhood ought to be sufficient refutation of defamatory charges circulated anonymously and wholly unverified for the avowed purpose of defeating my re-election; but I feel that I should make some statement in justice to the citizens who have supported and confided in me in the past.

The anonymous circulars accusing me of extravagance and other shortcomings scattered broadcast throughout this district are a tissue of misrepresentations where they are not downright falsehoods. In reality they constitute an attack on the integrity of the entire Board. They bear the impress of malice, and have been concocted with an utter disregard of the facts, of truth and the commonest article of fairness.

NO MAN SIGNS THEM, NO MAN VOUCHES FOR THE ASSERTIONS THEY CONTAIN, NO MAN GIVES THE SOURCE OF THE INFORMATION ON WHICH THE SLANDEROUS CHARGES ARE BASED.

And why? Because these anonymous circulars all emanate from one man—Stuart MacMullan. An anonymous charge is stronger than one with his name attached to it. The voters should know the identity of this anonymous witness against the Board of Supervisors, and the motives which animate him.

Stuart MacMullan is the son-in-law of a candidate for Supervisor in the Fourth District, in opposition to my colleague H. D. Rowe. He is the same Stuart MacMullan whose claim for $22,000 for commissions on property he is alleged to have pointed out for assessment was rejected unanimously by the Board, which claim he still hopes to collect. The present members of the Board are a bar to the collection of this preposterous claim.

Because the Board refused to authorize the payment of this outrageous demand, Stuart MacMullan instigated one J. E. Guilbault, a person practically unknown to the community and without standing as a citizen, to file general charges against the Board in the Superior Court. These charges were embodied in an accusation presented but not sworn to against Supervisor Rowe. As the dummy complainant refused to make oath to his allegations, the Court refused to consider them.

Then the Grand Jury, at the request of Mr. Rowe and his colleagues, took the charges up and thoroughly investigated them. After a searching examination, the Grand Jury found the charges of extravagance and waste of public money to be without foundation; also the accusation that the members of the Board had collected excessive and unlawful sums for mileage.

Moreover, the Grand Jury investigated the management of the County Infirmary, which had been assailed by a discharged employee, and found it to be competent, judicious and economical; commended instead of condemning it.

The Board of Supervisors was exonerated in every respect at the close of the inquiry, for which the charges now circulated anonymously by Stuart MacMullan furnished the basis.

Such are the facts of record. They constitute an irrefutable answer to anything Stuart MacMullan may allege personally or anonymously.

It is impossible to take up each charge in detail and show its falsity and misrepresentation, but the report of the Grand Jury, which went exhaustively in each, should be an answer to anonymous accusations.

To make a case against me I am charged with being responsible for certain acts and expenditures which the minutes of the Board show that I opposed and voted against.

I invite candid examination of my official acts, and am willing to abide the judgment of my fellow citizen who will take the trouble to ascertain the facts, but I protest against being judged by the false and malicious statements circulated anonymously by a man whose grievance is that the Board kept his unclean hands out of the treasury.

Evidently Stuart MacMullan thinks he will stand a better chance of getting his grab of $22,000 allowed with me out of the Board. I have been in business in Oakland for twenty-five years, and no man can say I ever wronged him out of a cent. I have given the public as honest and faithful service as I was capable of giving. I have dealt fairly with the taxpayers as I have with my customers in business. If I have made mistakes, I have made them conscientiously in pursuit of what I deemed to be right, and I think I am entitled to a fair and honest judgment on the record I have made as a citizen and a business man.

I have no word to say against my opponent, nor do I hold him responsible for the false and defamatory charges circulated against me, but the fact remains that it is Stuart MacMullan that is directing the masked battery enlisted on his side. And behind Stuart MacMullan is a scheme to plunder the county treasury. It is not because I have been extravagant as a Supervisor, but because I have fought this scheme that I am now attacked in lying dodgers.

JOHN MITCHELL.

CHINESE LEAVE COUNTRY

PRICE OF FOOD IS TOO HIGH FOR THEM AT VLADIVOSTOK.

CHE FOO, November 5, 5:45 p. m.—The Norwegian steamer Tungus arrived here this evening, five days from Vladivostok, carrying seven hundred Chinese refugees who were unable to live at Vladivostok any longer owing to the high prices of food, etc., due to the war.

A terrific gale makes the landing of the refugees impossible to-day but one Chinaman succeeded in reaching the shore.

He said the fortifications at Vladivostok are increasing in number and strength and that the fortress is strongly garrisoned, but the Russians do not expect an attack on the part of the Japanese and have no intention of invading Korea this winter.

ACTION AGAINST PICKETS.

Citizens' Alliance Behind Suit to Stop a Boycott.

An order restraining the Cooks and Waiters' Alliance from stationing pickets in front of the Cottage Restaurant on Teath street, or from in any way interfering with the conduct of the business there, was issued by Judge Henry Melvin this morning upon the petition of P. J. and Julia P. Martineau.

In a petition for the restraining order presented to the court this morning it is set forth that they have purchased the restaurant from Mrs. F. A. Halleck. It is alleged that in August of this year the president of the Cooks and Waiters' Alliance called upon Mrs. Halleck and asked her to unionize her kitchen employees and upon her refusal to do this, the girls acting as waitresses were called out upon a strike. And further that pickets were stationed outside of her place of business warning persons not to enter.

In the meantime Mrs. Halleck, it is alleged has sold the restaurant to the plaintiffs and they have been asked to unionize the place and have refused and that upon their refusal to do so the pickets have been continued before the restaurant and they now ask that the union be enjoined from molesting them. The hearing is set for Friday, November 18. Bush Finney, who represents the Citizens' Alliance is attorney for the plaintiffs.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETING

ADDITION WILL SOON BE MADE TO THE CITY PRISON.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Works held yesterday afternoon, it was decided that there should be no new street lights until next year, on account of a lack of funds.

A few weeks ago when the various members of the City Council, which, until recently, had charge of locating street lights, were each striving to secure new lights for their respective districts, Councilman Pendleton raised the question of the Council's jurisdiction in the premises, claiming that the installation of lights was a duty imposed by the charter on the Board of Public Works.

A number of the Councilmen contended that Pendleton's position was not well taken, but when the matter was referred to the City Attorney he held that Pendleton was right, and all the pending applications for new street lights were referred to the Board.

Prior to granting any of the applications the Board instructed City Electrician Babcock to ascertain how many new lights had been ordered by the Council this fiscal year and to also make a report on the condition of the light fund.

Yesterday Mr. Babcock reported that if any additional lights were installed there would be a deficit in the light fund, and the Board then declared its intention to refrain from authorizing the erection of any more street lights until after the close of the present fiscal year. His report showed that there are now in existence 740 street lights, and that each light costs on an average $87 per year, making the total annual cost of street light $64,380.

The question of locating signs showing the names of streets also came in for consideration. The matter was referred to the attention of the Board through a communication from the Woman's Civic Improvement Club. At the suggestion of Mayor Olney, a resolution was adopted favoring the putting up of street signs throughout the city generally and requesting the City Council to make the necessary appropriation to have the signs painted and put in place.

STATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE

Many People From All Parts of the States Are Now Being Treated at This Institution.

CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION FREE.

The great number of patients who have taken advantage of our week's treatment, which we have given for the last twenty days, has made it impossible to wait upon them in justice to them; therefore, we have decided to discontinue the free treatment, but examination and consultation will continue to be strictly free and without cost to the patient.

Whatever may be your disease, whether young or old, man, woman or child, if you are sick, if your family doctor and his medicines cannot cure you, come at once and investigate the successful treatment given at the State Medical Institute. No matter what your trouble may be, if you are not getting well, come to us at once.

We would especially invite all persons who have been suffering with diseases of long standing which have resisted former treatment, for we know well by experience that a large number of such cases can be treated successfully and cured by giving the proper medicines in the proper way.

After you visit this institution and see the large collection of pure, fresh drugs and the manner in which they are prepared, and the electric and scientific apparatus and all the means that are necessary for the cure of disease, you will then be satisfied that the State Medical Institute or Sanitarium is well worthy of your patronage.

The Manager of the State Medical Institute, having spent the last thirty years in the treatment of special diseases, a great part of which time has been spent in large hospitals of Europe, New York and Philadelphia, we especially claim to be well prepared for the successful treatment of diseases of the eye, the ear, the nose, the throat, and the lungs, and we believe that we are better prepared for the treatment of catarrhs, and other diseases than any other medical institution in the West.

By a large experience with the formidable diseases of the heart, catarrh, asthma, rheumatism and the various kinds of indigestion, we feel that we can encourage every one suffering with these diseases to come to this institution with the assurance of being cured.

Where patients for any reason cannot visit the Institute, one of the doctors at their homes will see them if they desire.

The doctors of the State Medical Institute treat and cure all diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat and lungs, the kidneys, bladder, brain, catarrh, asthma, rheumatism, bronchitis, headache, insomnia, nervousness, chills and malaria, skin diseases, diabetes, dyspepsia, dropsy, hemorrhoids and rectal troubles, and all forms of sores, blood and wasting diseases.

All private and wasting diseases promptly cured and their effects permanently eradicated from the system.

Diseases of women and children given special attention.

Nervous diseases and nervous prostration made a specialty.

Eczema, blood and skin diseases promptly cured.

Consultation either at the Institute, at the patient's home, or by mail, free.

Office hours—9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12 m.

BEASTS AND BIRDS.

Birds are often caught with fishing lines. Swallows and martins seize the angler's fly. Albatross are fished for in the Southern Ocean from the stern of an Australian clipper. But it does not often happen that a bird takes a hook and is hauled up from far below the surface of the sea. This was the catch made by a Scotch fisherman using a long line baited with a whiting. He was surprised at the weight of his capture before he brought it to the surface, but still more astonished when he saw that he had hooked a great northern diver, which had seized the whiting many fathoms below the surface. He managed to get the bird, which weighed as much as eight pounds, and tried to get it off the hook, but failed by darting at his face with its bayonet-like beak, and split the skin of his forehead between the eyebrows to the hair, after which it badly pierced his hands before he killed it with a stretched wire.

These divers have been caught in nets set thirty fathoms deep.

Therefore Van Dyke tells how to hunt deer by means of a cow bell. He says: "Hang the bell over your shoulder so that it will sound like a cow, and walk along fast, never minding the noise of your feet, but keeping a very keen eye ahead. Deer are very differently before the bell, and it is always liable to fall, though it will often give you great success. In thick brush deer that are accustomed to belled cattle will be apt to play along before the bell about a hundred yards or so ahead, stopping to look back at it and watching its direction so closely that they do not notice your companions on the sides. Some time they will stand quite unconcerned, looking at you until you get in plain open sight, so that you can get a good shot. And so on, they will run at the first sound of it, and not let you get sight of them."

Indian tigers seem to be losing their taste for human flesh. In 1903 considerable fewer human victims were reported than in previous years. In the district of Chanda, Hashangabad and Raypur the figures have fallen from 100, the average of previous years to fifty-nine. In the central provinces only 549 persons were killed by tigers, as compared with 637 in 1902. On the other hand, the number of cattle devoured had increased from 4,260 to 5,938. Of the human victims 39 per cent were natives and 11 per cent Europeans.

HOW TO VOTE ON TUESDAY.

Put Your Cross in Circle Over the Roosevelt Column.

The following notice has been issued:

"At former elections many ballots have been thrown out by the election board and the courts on account of technical defects, such as marks of identification, placing a cross after 'No Nomination,' etc.

"You can avoid all possibility of these errors at this election, as your ballot for this election has a circle at the top of the Republican ticket, and by stamping the cross in this circle you may vote your entire party ticket without the necessity of again stamping a cross elsewhere on your ballot. By this means you will avoid all possibility of making any mistake or having your vote rejected.

"If you wish especially to vote for the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt for President of the United States, you may do so by stamping a cross in the circle at the top of the Republican column and no other stamping is necessary elsewhere.

"By following the above suggestions you will save your own time, avoid technical mistakes, and make it certain that your vote will be counted.

"In the past many voters whose business takes them to San Francisco have been unable to vote owing to the time that would be consumed in so doing. The straight party vote in the circle makes it possible for them to vote in less than a minute and they will not be compelled to stand in line and wait for their turn to vote as heretofore. Yours for the party and continued prosperity.

"CLARENCE CROWELL, Chairman Republican County Central Committee of Alameda County.

"E. E. MAGILL, Assistant Secretary."

AN IDEAL PLAN

STRONGEST AND SAFEST SOCIETY ON THE COAST AND HOW IT OPERATES.

It should be the aim and laudable ambition of every married man, or young man contemplating matrimony, to have a home of his own, which should be free from the demands of the rent collector, and in which he may raise his family in serene contentment and in peace.

The time was when a married man built his home only after long years of toiling and saving after assuming matrimonial obligations, but such conditions, which deferred the erection of the roof tree, and the interior of the nest, because, under the principles which govern the San Francisco and Suburban Home Building Society, it is possible for any man, married or unmarried, to secure a home on the most reasonable terms at any time that he may elect to accomplish such a purpose.

It is through the agency of this society that hundreds of young married people and others who have long been in need of a home are now enjoying the comforts of home in choice residence sites in San Francisco, as well as in all the cities around the bay.

Everyone of these is a living testimonial to the beneficence of this organization, because it has granted them immunity from the misery of life eking out in ill-planned, shabby structures, and has, otherwise, and the untold agony of association with unwelcome neighbors in uncomfortable surroundings.

While making a business of supplying homes to thriving and provident people the San Francisco and Suburban Home Building Society is not, in any degree, what is known as a "building and loan" society, a designation which is suggestive of unpleasant experiences to many people.

This society does everything that a man himself would have to do were he to undertake the erection of a home for himself, if so required, it provides a lot for the structure to rest upon, secures the plans of the building, looks after the title to the realty, and conducts any and all litigation which may arise by reason of dispute with contractors or employees, and, finally, safeguards its patrons from the loss of the money they have invested in a policy in a fire insurance company.

In a word, it takes all the worry and annoyance of the patron's shoulders and mind, and attends to them with case, because it is experienced in all these lines, and has the advantage of the mistakes which are the unfailing experience of all who attempt to do this thing for the first time, in their own hands.

To cap the climax, of accommodation, the San Francisco and Suburban Home Building Society loans money to patrons to accomplish the erection of a home to the patron in small monthly installments.

This society is enabled to do all this with satisfaction to its patrons, and with a handsome income for itself.

It has a guaranteed fund of $500,000, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. The guarantee has been subscribed by men and institutions of financial standing, business acumen and probity, with which section, among whom may be mentioned, P. H. Ames, secretary of the Spring Valley Water Works; E. B. Barker of the Bellingham Bay Improvement Company; Bruce Cornwall, attorney-at-law; estate of E. Cornwall; J. M. Duke, insurance agent; with Charles Webb Howard; W. S. Goodfellow, attorney-at-law; Chas. Webb Howard, president Spring Valley Water Works; M. B. Kellogg, attorney-at-law; F. P. Howard, assistant secretary Spring Valley Water Works; Frank J. Symmes, president of the Central Trust Company. These, however, are only a few of the guarantors whose connection with the enterprise places it on a plane of reliability beyond call or dispute.

The funds of the society are invested

ROYAL Baking Powder

Makes pure food and thus saves health.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

In gilt-edge first mortgages on newly constructed homes and income-paying real estate.

The work in which the San Francisco and Suburban Home Building Society is now engaged represents an expenditure of $400,000 annually, and the demands of patrons and volume of business are increasing constantly. As a consequence, the amount of good done annually is well high incalculable.

The society issues two forms of certificates to which attention is specially directed. One of these is the "homeowner's" option certificate which enables the patron to deposit their savings while accumulating enough to make their first payments, and receive a per cent interest from time of deposit, but which may be withdrawn at any time and get 5 per cent.

The other certificate is the 6 per cent gold coupon certificate, which, for an investor, is on par with the best bonds in the market. This certificate is issued with coupons which are payable at the Bank of California. These certificates are secured by first mortgages on the finest real estate in Oakland and the value of the certificates. This, of itself, is all that is demanded even by most astute investors. The society also issues a third certificate of $50,000, to which reference has already been made.

The officers and directors are as follows: Edward K. Taylor, president; Joseph A. Leonard, manager; Allen A. Clay, treasurer; J. M. Duke, secretary; Chas. Webb Howard, cashier; George L. W. Leonard, assistant secretary; the Bank of California, depository; Edward K. Taylor, attorney.

Judge Parker and the Trusts.

Judge Parker's belated attack on the trusts may be accounted for in two ways. It may be only a despairing attempt to create a diversion that will put some life in the Democratic campaign or it may be in revenge for the failure of the trusts to put up the expected sums for the Parker campaign fund. Appearance indicates that the Democratic managers have a more or less justifiable grievance against the big capitalistic combinations. In a sense they are the victims of misplaced confidence. While the trusts backed Judge Parker for the nomination, they have been slow in subscribing to his campaign fund. This reluctance to putting up was not due to a desire to see Parker defeated but to the conviction that his defeat was inevitable. The trusts objected to throwing money away on the one hand, on the other they were anxious to be on their good behavior the moment they realized that Roosevelt was sure of election. Naturally this thrifty policy has offended the Democrats and given a shock to Judge Parker, who has been tarred with trust affiliations yet denied the assistance he was led to expect he would receive from trust money. Hence his wrath at the people who put him in the race and then refused to back him. Judge Parker should have spoken against the trusts as soon as he was nominated. He should not have waited till the closing days of the campaign to open up a furious crusade against them. Thoughtful men are apt to contrast his silence when he was openly charged with being the candidate of the trust with his fierce denunciation after it became known that the Democratic appeals for campaign funds had fallen on deaf ears. Judge Parker probably resented having to bear the odium of the trusts without getting their financial help, so he is in open revolt. He is charging the Republican campaign committee with getting the money he expected would be given the Democratic campaign committee, but that is a mere assumption. No proof has been produced to back it up, and the assertion has met with an emphatic denial. The laugh appears to be on the Democratic candidate. He has been used and thrown aside the moment he ceased to be of use. His position is therefore both painful and ludicrous, and he is naturally smarting under it.

Within the last ten days the Parker canvass has received two body blows of a staggering character. One was the promulgation of the new treaty with France, negotiated by Secretary Hay, and the other was the reduction of $20,000,000 in the army estimates for the next two years. The Democrats have been bawling about extravagance, especially in the expense of maintaining our military establishment, and asserting that the President was keeping the Republic in hot water with other nations; yet they are contradicted by the ordinary course of events, given the lie by the facts of the record. The United States were never on better terms with foreign nations than at present and never before occupied so influential a position in the diplomacy of the world. And the army expenses are being curtailed because the tranquilizing of the Philippines, a work that has been hampered by Democratic opposition and complaint, enables the Government to withdraw some of the troops and to retrench in other directions.

Roosevelt Castigates Parker.

It is to be regretted that the Presidential campaign was not permitted to end as it began, without a resort to personalities and abuse. Till within four weeks of election the canvass was dignified and wholly free from the objectionable features which have characterized some previous campaigns. But suddenly the World and Times of New York and the Brooklyn Eagle, apparently in sheer desperation, began to charge Chairman Cortelyou with blackmailing the trusts with the knowledge and connivance of the President. The public looked incredulous and demanded the proof. Not a scrap of evidence has ever been produced to sustain the slanderous charges, nevertheless the leading Democratic journals continued to repeat them from day to day. Finally the Democratic candidate for President took them up and began to repeat them from the stump. Judge Parker made a sudden descent in the opinion of decent minded folk by picking up discredited and unsupported campaign libels to utter against an opponent. It was in shocking bad taste, and moreover, it was an outrage to thus impugn the personal honor of the President and the gentlemen who are managing the Republican campaign. While the President would not condescend to give personal notice to the slanders of partisan newspapers, he would not remain silent under the base aspersions of his opponent. He has given out an answer to the calumnies hot with indignation, charged with facts in refutation. Its trenchant sentences fall like the thongs of a lash. But the President's character, reputation and high office should have saved him the necessity for thus castigating an adversary so lacking in the elements of courtesy and fairness. While the castigation is to be applauded, it is regrettable that it should ever have been made necessary. Judge Parker never had any chance of election, but now he will go down to defeat followed by the scorn and contempt of millions of his fellow citizens who have hitherto respected his personal character. In his mad desire for election he has thrown away his reputation, and he cannot urge Cassio's excuse that he was drunk when he did it.

Richmond Pearson Hobson is making a hysterical canvass for Parker. Since he sank the Merrimac he seems to think it is his duty to go down with every sinking craft.

His numerous blunders when he discusses finances and questions of national administration should admonish Judge Parker to stick to the common law, which is nebulous, elastic and is non-committal in politics.

John Bull's readiness to arbitrate with Russia is in striking contrast with his method of dealing with the Boers and Tibet. A big stick inspires respect—and forbearance. This is a pointer for Uncle Sam.

The Alameda County Campaign

The campaign will practically come to a close to-night with the prospect that Alameda County will give the largest Republican majority in its history. Roosevelt's plurality is more likely to be over 10,000 than under that figure. Mr. Knowland for Congress, will run well along with the President. He has steadily grown in public estimation since his nomination, and in every part of the district his popularity is great. The indications point surely to the election of all the Republican legislative and Supervisorial candidates. This is as it should be in a Republican County. The candidates are all good men, well and favorably known, and their records as well as their characters justify the confidence of the public and the solid support of all Republican voters. The fact that some of them have been unjustly assailed by mendacious circulars, circulated anonymously and other scandalous devices ought to increase their majorities. As a United States Senator is to be elected by the incoming Legislature, every Republican should make sure that he votes for the Republican legislative candidates. There never was a time when straight voting was more commendatory, whether viewed from the personal or the political standpoint, the Republican ticket is best from top to bottom. A straight vote for it is a vote for good government.

Columbus had just discovered that the earth was not flat. "I'm onto your curves," he chuckled. But he had trouble making people believe that they were not on the level.—Philadelphia Record.

The men who demand the impossible or the undesirable serve as the allies of the forces with which they are nominally at war.

Corporations engaged in interstate commerce should be regulated if they are found to exercise a license working to the public injury.

There is no worse enemy of the wage-worker than the man who condones mob violence in any shape or who preaches class hatred.

Moreover, much that is complained about is not really the abuse so much as the inevitable development of our modern industrial life.

In dealing with the big corporations which we call trusts, we must resolutely purpose to proceed by evolution and not revolution.

You cannot put a stop to or reverse the industrial tendencies of the age, but you can control and regulate them and see that they do no harm.

All I ask is to be sure that we do not use the knife with an ignorant zeal which would make it more dangerous to the patient than to the disease.

Every new feature of this industrial revolution produces hardship because in its later stages it has been literally a revolution instead of an evolution.

Wherever a substantial monopoly can be shown to exist we should certainly try our utmost to devise an expedient by which it can be controlled.

Hints for the Ladies.

For the see babies are shown luxurious Japanese robes on the kimono order embroidered by hand.

New fans come in flower designs—looking like a great toppy when closed and opening from the center.

Dainty gold boudoir clocks make pretty and acceptable wedding gifts and come in all sorts of shapes and sizes.

Panel effects are seen in many of the new gowns exhibited in the shops from more skirts to beautiful princess dresses.

In the fancy goods departments are small embroidered cases marked "stick pins" Filled with fancy-headed dressing pins they make acceptable holiday gifts.

Sable fur blends so harmoniously with the modish browns and mauves that there is an increased demand for it and furriers are showing handsome stoles and muffs made of it.

There are novelties in bread pans as well as other things. Neat little roll pans at 10 cents apiece form the bread into inviting shapes.

For $10 is to be had a lace net robe in pale blue trimmed with ruchings and ruffles of chiffon. As the skirt is in one piece it is very easy even for an amateur dressmaker to put together.

One of the handsomest toilet sets to be seen is being decorated for a bride and is in glass, a clear crystal with gold traceries, on each piece of which is stamped her monogram in heavy gold relief.

In the florist windows are common splint baskets, some twelve or fifteen inches long, and four or five inches wide, and having a cover that opens toward the side. These baskets are the latest and most proper caper for delivering flowers and are useful and pretty after the posies are dead and gone.

THE STARVED, SPANGLED BANDSMEN.

(The Russian military band at Port Arthur plays its regular morning and evening programs, despite the severity of the siege.—From a cable dispatch.)
O, say, you hear in the dawn's early light

What so gladly we heard at the twilight gleam?
Does the bass drum boom in its resonant night?
Does the tubatintoo toot with its regular steam?
Though the trombones' blasts in its practicing flare
Gave proof through the night that the band was there
O, say, do the starved, spangled bandsmen still play,
While the Japanese shells whizzovitch o'er the bay?

Though the drumhead has lost its best head by a shell,
And a bullet has pierced a new hole in the futeask!
Does the band answer back with "Bodelia" as well
As it did when the Japs first gave orders to shoot?
"Hiawatha" it pealed from a bandstand concealed,
And the howl shot off ragtime its rumbles revealed—
O, say, do the starved spangled bandsmen still play,
While the Japanese shells whizzovitch o'er the bay?

Hark! The strasnaki that comes through the crash of the bomb!
'Tis the band proving yet that grim war is Old Harry.
For the melody made by the toots and the turn-tunes there
Is the gallant defiance of "Good morning, Carrie"
And the Offisks and Vitches still gallantly blow,
While the music is hurled in the face of the foe
And the starved, spangled bandsmen courageously play,
While the Japanese shells whizzovitch o'er the bay.
—Francis Scott Key, Kovitchovitch, on board Japanese flagship, off Port Arthur, August 11, 1904. —Life.

PARDON FROM PARDEE.

Governor Grants Freedom to Convicted Italian.

SACRAMENTO, November 4.—Governor George C. Pardee today granted a pardon to Natali Rossi, an Italian who was convicted of murder in the first degree in Marin County in 1883 and sentenced to life imprisonment.

While he was in prison Rossi was an exemplary prisoner, and in 1890 he was paroled upon the recommendation of the State Board of Prison Directors.

He secured employment from the Novati Land Company in Marin county where he has since worked. He has conducted himself honestly and industriously and has brought his wife and children out from Switzerland to which country they returned when Rossi was sent to prison.

The officers of the Novati Land Company, Judge Lennon of the Superior Court and District Attorney Boyd of Marin County, asked that his sentence be commuted so he could be released permanently. The State Board of Prison Directors also recommended that Rossi be pardoned and Gov. Pardee acted accordingly.

FOREMAN SHOTS HIS MEN.

RIOT RESULTS BECAUSE ITALIANS REFUSED TO WADE INTO SWAMP.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 4.—One man was killed and three probably fatally injured in a riot here today. A man named Dean, foreman of a construction gang for a tool company, ordered his men, all Italians, to get into a swamp. They refused because they had no high boots. Dean insisted.

This angered the men, who attacked him with knives. Dean began shooting at the men. One Italian was instantly killed, another fatally wounded, and it is said there is another dead Italian in the swamp. Dean, it is said, cannot live.

BAY CITIES MUST ANSWER.

SAN JOSE, November 4.—In four suits against the Bay Cities Water Company to restrain the corporation from diverting the waters of Coyote Creek in this valley, Judge Tuttle this afternoon overruled the demurrers on the same grounds as those set forth by Judge Rhodes recently in a similar case.

DRINKS ON THE MOVE.

Southern Pacific Makes a New Order For Employees.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—Gentlemen with thirsty throats or with the spirit of hospitality so strong within their breasts that they cannot see a man without at once asking him to take a drink will have to restrain their impetuous natures when they board a Southern Pacific train with a dining car attached or the Oakland and Alameda boats, till they have started.

"Jooze on the move" is the order of the managers of the Southern Pacific and no drink, soft or hard, will be sold while the wheels are stationary or the peddles are still.

A commuter, one of those gentlemen who is always willing to treat, felt much aggrieved at this because the barkeeper on the Oakland boat asked him to con- que his thirst until the boat had got out of the slip.

When the ferryboat was in the bay then the barkeeper was ready for business. Manager Agler, when asked whether this was a rule of the company or one of the vagaries of the saloon man, remarked:

"Now, look here you know that the law and only thought of the Southern Pacific company is fairness. Fairness is one of the basic principles of business. In the language of the common herd it is to live and to let live. Suppose now that if the bar was open on the boat before starting, our friends from Oakland would not patronize the bars near their places of business, but would wait till they got on the boat. Now I ask you as a fair-minded man, would that be just to the men who are selling liquor?"

A fair treatment to ourselves and fair treatment to all is what the Southern Pacific is seeking, and we would go on our rule to others as you would have them do unto you.

And Manager Agler then turned to his correspondence, feeling that for all time he had placed the Southern Pacific in the most amiable light that it had ever been placed in, or it ever expected to be placed in.

A lawyer of the corporation gave an entirely different version.

"What?" he exclaimed, "do you suppose that we are going to pay a city license in every little town we passed in, or if it ever expected to be placed in?"

When you get a drink on the cars when the fire on the standstill? Why, if we did that we would have to be paying a license in every little town we passed through, and that would come to more than we get out of the dining car service."

CABINET MEET

TREATY WITH GERMANY.

Pres. Roosevelt Opens Negotiations For a New Deal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Negotiations have been initiated for a treaty of arbitration between Germany and the United States. Several days ago President Roosevelt suggested to Baron Sternburg, the German Ambassador, that a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Germany would, in his judgment, be very desirable.

Ambassador Sternburg coincided with this view and told the President that he would inquire of his government what steps, if any, it desired to take in the matter.

Late this afternoon Ambassador Sternburg called upon President Roosevelt and informed him that the German government had expressed itself as entirely agreeable to the President's proposition and that he had been directed to open formal negotiations for such a treaty. These negotiations will be conducted by Ambassador Sternburg on the part of Germany and Secretary Hay for the United States.

When the treaty is signed, it will be the first of the kind since the Civil War.

FIRE THREATENS A TOWN.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 4.—A report has reached here that Tifton, Ga., is burning and that a large portion of the town is threatened with destruction.

The Phillips-Stack building and the Regent hotel have been destroyed and the fire is now beyond control and threatening the best residence part of the city.

FORTUNE STOLEN FROM BANKER.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A special from Warsaw, New York, says the safe of James J. Blodgett at Hermitage was blown open today and from $25,000 to $30,000 stolen. Blodgett has conducted a private bank for the past four years.

Another dispatch says Mr. Blodgett declined to state his loss, but it is generally believed a very substantial sum was taken.

PLANS FOR TAKING EVIDENCE.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Foreign Minister Delcasse announced to the council of ministers today the details of the approaching session of the Anglo-Russian commission in the North Sea incident. He said that by agreement between both parties Paris had now been formally determined upon for the sessions of the commissions. These might begin about November 15th if arrangements were possible to secure a full attendance by more time.

Otherwise the sessions would soon open after that date.

The commission would be composed of British, Russian, French and American admirals, one from each country, these four to select a fifth admiral. The sessions will be held at the Foreign Office, probably in the hall of the Ambassadors. M. Delcasse is arranging to give the commission the use of the Foreign Office.

It is understood that the commission will hear oral testimony, the chiefs of Russian officers who were detached from their ships at Viggo and the principal witnesses who testified at the Hull inquest.

The desire of the authorities here is to expedite the inquiry as it is understood that the wish all concerned to reach an early decision.

TRIED TO DEFRAUD A BANKER.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—Edward S. Planter, or Patterson, as he goes by name to the police, has been arrested, charged with passing forged checks on a Detroit bank.

He will be detained until the arrival of an officer from Detroit with requisition papers.

The accused man recently came west and went to Fresno, where he told Banker Patterson of that city that he was his second cousin.

After a few days of entertainment he asked to have a check for $2500 indorsed. The banker became suspicious, wired to the Detroit Bank and learned that an attempt was being made to defraud him. His guest learned of this and came to this city.

ROBBED AT THE FAIR.

Former Senator Sins Has Heavy Loss in the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Former State Senator J. C. Sins regrets that he went to St. Louis on his honeymoon, for he has been victimized by some of the enterprising burglar gentlemen of that city and left without a cent as a change of clothing. Worse than that, Senator Sins has just bought a magnificent outfit for himself, and many things for his bride and they, too, were stolen from his hotel.

Mr. Sins' loss is said to be at least $500. He is credit with having expended in St. Louis for clothes and articles of personal adornment for himself and Mrs. Sins.

The well-known former, Democratic leader and former State Senator recently married Miss McDonald, the daughter of M. Jasper McDonald. The happy couple went East on their honeymoon on the World's Fair was on the program of places to be visited. Arriving at St. Louis Mr. Sins and his bride put up at the Hamilton Hotel. Soon afterward they bought an elaborate outfit to the cost of $500. The various purchases were sent to the rooms of the bride couple in the Hamilton Hotel. In their absence a thief entered and carried off everything in the apartments, including articles of clothing taken from San Francisco.

LIE IS GIVEN MINISTER.

Great Tumult in the French House of Deputies.

PARIS, November 4.—The Chamber of Deputies held a tumultuous session today over renewed interpretations on the subject of the policy of War Minister Andre, alleging that he was personally complicit of the system of spying upon officers.

During the time when the minister was making his reply there was a scene of intense confusion.

He said that during the Trefas affair some officers participated in manifestations against President Loubet and he cited other instances showing intolerance and lack of discipline among officers.

The Minister said that this was fomented by political and clerical agitators. During the maneuvers he added, a regimental colonel had refused to accept the insignia of royalty. The war minister's declaration caused a wild demonstration. General Jacquy exclaimed that the minister lied.

The president of the chamber threatened to censure General Jacquy, who withdrew his words and the minister continued his statement with great excitement.

WANT TO GROW BETTER GRAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—A large number of California grain growers met this afternoon at the St. Francis Hotel to discuss the framing of a petition asking that the State legislature encourage the production of a better grade of grain in this State, so that California may compete with Eastern States, which have improved the quality of grain in the past few years.

Recent experiments conducted by the agricultural department of the University of California, under the direction of Professor G. A. Shaw, show that it is easy to grow a better grade of grain than is now produced.

The committee which has had these experiments in charge consists of General N. P. Chipman, Horace Davis, Prof. G. A. Shaw, T. C. Friedman and Arthur R. Briggs.

ROBBERS HAVE MADE ESCAPE.

CODY, Wyo., November 4.—The Cody bank robbers have escaped. Members of the posse sent from here who have returned say that the timber line, which the outlaws took refuge has been thoroughly beaten with no trace of the men wanted. The pursuit has not been abandoned, however.

DR. DE COSTA DEAD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Rev. Dr. Benjamin De Costa, the Episcopal clergyman who five years ago became a convert to the Roman Catholic Church and a year ago was ordained a priest, died today at St. Vincent's Hospital, aged 74, after a year's illness.

FOWLER IS MADE CHIEF DEPUTY.

COLLECTOR LYNCH'S BOOKS NOW BALANCE TO A CENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—United States Internal Revenue Collector John C. Lynch, has appointed Charles F. Fowler, chief clerk in his office, to succeed George A. Wright, whose resignation was demanded and accepted. The Collector says that there is no shortage of funds and Wright denies that he misused Government money.

Revenue Agent Thomas, who is investigating the affairs of the office, states that he found that the stamp account, which it has been alleged filled to balance by $4,698, was correct. If there had been a discrepancy it had been made good.

The matter has been turned over to the United States District Attorney for further action, in accordance with orders from the Treasury Department at Washington.

RATIFICATION IS DELAYED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4, 6:45 p. m.—The delay in the final ratification of the convention inquiry into the North Sea is in the formulation of the question which the international commission is to decide. The Russian authorities are understood to desire to acquaint themselves with the detailed report of Admiral Rozhkovsky, which was brought here by Captain Clado, and his three brother officers today, in order to ascertain whether any new questions raised by the report should be included. Both Captain Clado and his comrades upon their arrival at the railroad station this morning informed a representative of the Associated Press that they had nothing to say for publication.

MAY HAVE TANGLED ON THE SIGNALS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4.—1 p. m.—The possibility that there may have been some misunderstanding of signals during the traveler incident in the North Sea is suggested by a fact made public in an order of the day issued by Vice-Admiral Chokutin, commander of the Black Sea fleet, which records the fact that officers of the latter fleet are so unfamiliar with the new code system adopted by the admiralty that during the recent maneuvers not a single ship understood or obeyed the Admiral's signals.

THE MIDDLER

OAKLANDERS RECEIVE AT A CITY TEA.

Several Oakland maids and matrons received last Saturday at the charming tea which Mr. and Mrs. Moore gave to present their pretty daughter, Miss Carol. It was said on all sides that never were so many pretty girls seen at one tea in the receiving party. Perhaps it was because Miss Carol Moore is such a lovely girl herself that she does not need to fear competition, just as Miss Forc could safely select anyone in the matter of bridesmaids.

Miss Moore is a beauty with perfectly regular, small features, large, lovely brown eyes, brown hair and the sweetest pink cheeks in the world—like a bride's cheeks. She was very sweet in her white debutante gown and the quantities of flowers she had received literally banked the walls of the large rooms.

The tea was a fashionable crush and afterwards there was a dinner and an informal dance for the girls who received and an equal number of young men. Nearly all the receiving party were debutantes of this year or last. Among the Oaklanders was Miss Gertrude Allen in a diaphanous white frock and among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tuggle Clay, the latter in a pretty light gray calling gown.

THE COFFIN TEA.

The Coffin tea on the same day was also a delightful affair but here Ross Valley and San Rafael were heavily represented, as Menic and Burlington were at the Kohl tea at the Palace Hotel. Among the guests at the Coffin tea were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Y. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell in a handsome black gown. The new home of the Campbells is almost directly across the street from the Coffin residence.

DINING

MRS. ATHERTON.

The Sequoia Club gave a large dinner and reception in honor of Mrs. Gertrude Atherton last Friday evening and those who enjoy stroking lions' manes, were out in full force. Mrs. Atherton was charming to everyone for she is very unaffected and simple as all really important people are and seems to be as interested in all the commoners as the commoners are in her. She wore a decolette white gown with green leaves about the edge of the corsage which set off admirably her blonde hair and fair skin. Her eyes are as blue as ever and she is a very pretty woman in spite of the hard work she has done—hard work usually not adding to a woman's beauty. Mrs. Atherton's sister, Mrs. Ashton Stevens, looked handsome in yellow with yellow daisies as ornamentation and there were a number of handsome frocks, among them stunning effects in black worn by Mrs. Gerberding, Mrs. Lansing of Alameda and Mrs. Gertrude Norris, a pretty white gown with pink flowers in which Miss Frances Joliffe appeared; a becoming yellow gown worn by Miss Ednah Robinson, the founder of the club and Mrs. Salisbury's niece, and a handsome black and silver worn by the bride, Mrs. Edgar Peixotto. Miss Mary Bell of Berkeley wore white with lilacs of the valley in her hair and corsage and Miss Bertha Monroe Rickoff of Berkeley wore a picturesque dark dress and black plumed hat.

Altogether, it was a well-dressed and pretty assembly—for San Francisco—and the people there were interesting because most of them do something and most of them are worth while.

Mr. Charles S. Aiken, editor of the Sunset Magazine, is the president of this man and woman club which bids fair to become the most interesting club in the city.

THE LANGHORNE TEA.

The Southern set, the oldest and most exclusive set in San Francisco, to which few members of the nouveau riche have ever penetrated, was out again in full force at the Langhorne tea, at which Miss Maisee Langhorne made her debut on Wednesday, November 1st. The threatening weather, which bade fair to spoil the day, cleared just in time to make the tea a crowded success, though there will be a second one on the 15th of the month.

Miss Langhorne is another extremely pretty girl, with a charming mother to back her—a most important thing for a society girl—and she, too, was assisted by a bevy of beautiful girls. Miss Carol Moore appeared in pink, this time with a pink rose in her hair, which was coiled low on her neck and she looked perfectly charming. Miss Sally Maynard was one of the receiving party—Miss Maynard, who is probably the most popular girl in San Francisco. I'm not sure that I should want to be coming out this year in San Francisco. So far every one of the girls is a beauty.

A WEEK OF DINNERS.

The week has been full of dinners

MISS BESSIE JOHNSTONE.

In San Francisco, every night showing two or three large ones. The big dinner dance of the Drapers which presented Miss Elsa Draper to society, and Fred Trumway's birthday dinner on Friday, were of course, the largest of them all. The Draper dinner was at the Bohemian Club and was a handsome affair, rivaling the big Henry Foster Dutton dinner which was given by Mrs. Russell J. Wilson, at which her younger daughter made her debut.

This was a very youthful dinner, most of the debutantes of this season being invited, and no one else. On Wednesday night, also, the May Newhalls and Miss Newhall entertained in honor of Miss Gertrude Ellis and her fiancé. On the same evening the Frank Deering's gave a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson, who leave this evening for Europe, to be gone six months or more. They sail from Boston November 19 and will not stop at St. Louis. Instead they will give the intervening time to New York. The other guests at the Deering dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, Dr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Shields, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Cool, Miss Florence Ives, Miss Helen Wagner, Mr. Richard M. Hotelling and Mr. Charles E. Field.

RETURNED FROM MONTEREY.

Mrs. J. Walter Scott has returned from a brief visit to Monterey.

THE BIG DILLON WEDDING.

Miss Katharine Dillon's wedding on Thursday evening attracted many from this side of the bay, among them being Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr and Miss Ethel Moore, who was one of the bridesmaids. The wedding was one of the largest and most elaborate ever held in San Francisco. Before Tuesday over a hundred and eighty presents had been received, among them a gorgeous chest of silver, everything in eighteen pieces, from Mr. and Mrs. Casey, Miss Dillon's mother and stepfather. The wedding was a home one, and so was not as large as though held in church. Comparatively few people were asked to the ceremony, but many were bidden to the reception. The decorations were most gorgeous and the Casey's new home on Pacific avenue, finished but last year when the house warming was held in November, is a beautiful one to decorate. The handsome bridal gown was the creation of San Francisco's most celebrated modiste, as were the pink bridesmaid dresses which Miss Dillon's presented to her maids. All were lovely with hand-work and most elaborate. The bridesmaids looked very stunning in them. Lieutenant and Mrs. Winship will reside for the winter in town. Lieutenant Winship is on shore duty at the Union Iron Works, and as he has been wounded will probably never again be sent to sea. His brother, Major Winship, came out from the East to act as his brother's best man, and has been extensively feted and entertained.

Miss Ethel Moore always looks exceedingly well in evening dress and she was one of the most attractive of the bride's attendants.

THE MOORES HOME AGAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore Jr. have returned from their automobile trip to the continent and are again in their Chestnut street home. They have had a delightful time and are both browned and rosy. Their example has set many other people to thinking of the same trip, and the Wilsons contemplate an automobile trip through France in the spring. The Wilsons will visit Italy and after some weeks on the Riviera will winter in Cairo.

ENTERTAINED AT CARDS.

Mrs. G. W. Fisher gave a card party on the afternoon of November 1. Five hundred was the game of the afternoon and the affair was a very delightful one.

FOOTBALL IN BERKELEY.

The fact that the football game is to be held in Berkeley this year and no longer on Richmond Field robs the game of most of its social features. No longer will the society girl disport herself at football in all her gay plumage—at least it is said that she will not—for it is too much trouble to go all the way to Berkeley one year and Stanford the next. There are to be no more games in San Francisco. The audience will be largely made up of college people, young and old, and football enthusiasts, which may not decrease the interest in the game, but will not add to the beauty of the audience, always a part of the spectacle from my point of view.

They say that Berkeley has no chance this year, as Stanford has a veteran team while Berkeley has a crowd of Freshmen, and these have had many accidents. It will be too bad if Berkeley loses the first game on the new field, but those things do happen occasionally.

REJOICING IN THE BIRTH OF A SON.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Adams Jr. are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son, who came into this world on Sunday afternoon, October 30. Mrs. Adams, who was, before her marriage, Miss Hazel Curtiss of East Oakland, is getting along very well and the baby is said to be a beauty. He weighed at birth ten and a half pounds.

ENTERTAINING FOR THE WILSONS.

Raphael Weil was host at one of his famous luncheons at the Bohemian Club on Wednesday, the guests of honor being Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson. About eighteen guests enjoyed Mr. Weil's notable hospitality. On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Clough gave a dinner and theater party in honor of the Wilsons, and last Saturday evening at the Bohemian Club Mr. Wilson gave a stag dinner to a number of his friends. This dinner preceded the Phelan Jinks. Mrs. Wilson also gave a luncheon at the Palace

Palm Garden last week to a number of her women friends. These charming little affairs have punctuated the days before the Wilsons' departure, for they are among the most popular young married couples in San Francisco.

MISS BERGER A BRIDE.

Among the prettiest weddings of the year was the marriage this afternoon of Miss Hilda Berger and Frederick C. Monell at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. O. Berger of Webster street.

The beautiful Berger home displayed the most artistic decoration, groups of tall white chrysanthemums and masses of pale pink roses united in making the color scheme a delightful harmony of pink and white.

In the hallway graceful palms had been used with good effect, but the parlors showed the prevailing pink and white. A marriage bower of white chrysanthemums had been built in artistic fashion in the spacious parlor, and here the young people received the nuptial blessing; Dr. F. X. Morrison reading the impressive marriage service.

The bride was a fair picture in her beautiful gown of white chiffon popular in her hair she wore a cluster of lilies of the valley and carried a shower of the same dainty blossoms.

The bodice of the gown was entirely of rare lace and the elbow sleeves were finished with elaborate ruffles of chiffon. The skirt was made with a train and carried two dainty flounces of the white chiffon.

Miss Mina Berger attended her sister as maid of honor and her white gown of India silk was also of exquisite design. The yoke was of lace and the soft clinging skirt hung in pretty folds. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Rodgers of San Francisco acted as best man.

Mrs. Berger wore a handsome gown of black chiffon heavily trimmed with handsome jet.

There were about thirty guests, relatives and a few near friends. The dining room, where the wedding supper was served, was beautifully decorated in pink and white tones. On the table, around which were gathered the bridal party, pink roses were effectively grouped.

Mr. and Mrs. Monell will enjoy an extended honeymoon and on their return will make their home in this city, where they have a host of friends.

SMART SET IS IMPROVING MIND.

If one were to ask what the smart set was doing these autumn days, I would promptly answer, "Improving its mind."

A visitor in one of the prominent homes here said this week: "Really, Oakland reminds me very much of Boston—all your fashionable people of the most smart set, I mean, go to his name "John London." "John" being much more dignified than the informal "Jack."

But he would have none of it, for if they didn't take "Jack" they couldn't take the manuscript either, so they must needs be content with the signature, for Jack London is in a position to dictate to the publishers.

We say a great deal about the successful Californian in the world of letters, and take great pride in praising our own. But after all, in the last analysis only two Californians have achieved a world-wide reputation, Gertrude Atherton and Jack London.

So it was not to be wondered at that the auditorium of the Home Club showed one of the most representative audiences of the season.

Jack London was very shy and diffident, very slow to warm up to his subject, and you found it hard to believe that this rather awkward young man had just finished in the Century Magazine the story of the year, "The Sea Wolf."

But by and by, as memories of Korean days came over the speaker, one began to notice the fine word pictures, and later one followed with keen interest the wanderings of the correspondent in the Orient. For the first time some of these people realized what it meant to represent a big paper—what thousands of dollars it cost, and how necessary it was that your paper should not be beaten on the news.

Jack London told the story—how the American and English correspondents went over to the Orient with the strongest of pro-Japanese feelings.

He described the Japanese as they appeared to the ordinary tourist, bowing and scraping, and kow-towing, and full of polite ways. But the other picture showed the Japanese when you came down to do serious business with him. And what a picture it was! It showed the intense hatred and bitter contempt of the Japanese for the white man.

It made your blood boil at the way the white men were treated by the high caste Japanese, and by the scum of the earth in Tokio. The indignities the white men had to suffer, made you realize the wide gulf that must always remain between the yellow and the white races. There is not much brotherhood possible, for all our friendly overtures.

Jack London showed that the Japanese are still in the semi-savage state, with a little veneer of civilization—but throughout the length and breadth of Japan there is a contempt, an abiding hatred of the white man that makes itself felt whenever the Japanese feel that they have the upper hand.

They were absolutely without honor in all dealings with the American correspondents, even the very men who had come here, and absorbed the best that our colleges had to offer. It was a tale of long continued insult to which one listened, and the audience applauded heartily when Jack London knocked down the insulting Tokio hoodlum, Oshima.

Of course, he was nearly court-martialed out of Japan for it, but there was not an American man in that large audience who would not have done just the same.

But aside from the minor sketches

SOCIAL EVENTS OF INTEREST TO THE SMART SET

Mrs. William J. Poole

It was a superb picture that Jack London gave of the masterly retreat of General Kuropatkin after the battle of Liao-Yang.

It seems the Japanese have not been so immensely successful as we have supposed them, and the masterly retreat of General Kuropatkin will be considered one of the finest pieces of military maneuvering and engineering the world has hitherto known. General Kuropatkin retreated, leaving not one wounded soldier on the field, and leaving only one battery, which had to be drawn by twenty-four horses and was simply buried in the mud.

There was a burst of enthusiastic applause over the superb world picture showing the Russian retreat from Liao-Yang. The final summing up of the whole lecture is of value, coming from one who has been on the field, in close touch with affairs, and coming from a man of the standing of Mr. Jack London.

"As to the outcome of the war," he said, "Russia will win. She was not prepared for the war, and Japan was. But Japan is a poor country, she is putting forth all her effort in the beginning, and trusting to entanglements and to other nations for help. But granting there is no intervention from other nations, granting that Russia has no uprising of her people, leaving the two nations to fight it out, Russia will win."

THOSE AT THE LECTURE.

I wish I might write of the immensely funny sketches, among the fisher folk, on the coast, who had never before seen a white man. But they are other stories, and will probably be written sometime by Mr. Jack London himself. Even the darkest war time has its touch of humor, for it takes all sorts of lights, high and low, to make up a war picture.

Among those who listened with much attention to the lecture were Mrs. Charles Butters, Mr. and Mrs. Boone, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Barker, Miss Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Miss Helen Chase, Miss Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bangs, Miss Irene Bangs, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. A. D. Thomson, Miss Anita Thomson, Doctor and Mrs. Erwin Brinckerhoff, Doctor Pauline Nusbaum, Mrs. Edwin Morrison, Miss Charlotte Morrison, Judge and Mrs. Yule, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Coogan, Miss Coogan, Mrs. Goodfellow, Miss Marian Goodfellow.

And one might wish that it were possible to get home with more comfort. Really a hundred people cannot possibly fit in one car, and there were fully that number waiting for the first car that started and if you do not take the first one you must wait twenty minutes out in the cold world, till another car takes you home, and it is all wonderfully disastrous to your peace of mind.

The Home Club announce for this winter Mr. Burton Holmes, who will take us "In and About London," by means of beautifully colored pictures, and Mr. Jacob Rius, who will illustrate for us the now famous "Battle of the Slurms."

SOCIETY AT A LECTURE.

And while speaking of lectures one must not leave out Professor Morse Stephens, one of the most popular men who ever came to this coast. He is giving a course of University Extension lectures this winter, which is simply crowding to the doors an immense thrill. How easy we are learning things in these later days! Our poor grandmothers were made to study the most abstruse text books, and if they rebelled ever so little, the Wise Ones shook their heads gravely and said, "There is no royal road to learning." But we have found an easier road all right. We just pause in the day's career, and sit for an hour quietly while some attractive lecturer tells us things, and lo, our minds are stored with learning. He has done all the work, all the reading, all the research.

And so many of us are winding our way each week, to hear Morse Stephens, the delightful Englishman, who has come all the way from Oxford to lead the educational advance for some of us.

He was the most popular professor in Cornell, the students were not "school boys" to him—they were men. And Cornell was loud in its lamentations when President Wheeler managed to bring him out here. He is a most delightful lecturer, with the most perfect command of English, and an accent that is simply charming. Just to listen to the perfect English and the fascinating English accent is an education in itself.

He is giving a series of lectures on the French Revolution, but the pictures are very different indeed from the ones presented to us before. They are immensely interesting. There are course tickets, which one may obtain by sending to Miss Elizabeth Sherman, President of the Teachers' Club, and one may attend any of the lectures by paying twenty-five cents at the door.

At the lecture on Tuesday one noticed Mrs. George W. Percy, Miss Helen Chase, Mrs. Walter Henry, Miss Violet Whitney, Miss McNear, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Miss Marian Everson, Miss Connors, Miss Anita Thomson, Mrs. Orestes Pierce, Miss Amy McKee, Miss Marietta Havens, Miss Ethel Valentine, Miss Christie Taft, Mrs. John F. Connors, Miss Pauline Fore, Miss Emily Chickering, Miss Kellogg, Miss Marian Goodfellow, Miss May Coogan, Mrs. Charles Snook, Miss Sanborn, Miss Margaret Connors, Miss Prather, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. Harrison Clay.

The next lecture is set for November 16, and Professor Morse Stephens will take for his subject "Lafayette."

MISS DE GOLIA ENTERTAINS.

Miss De Golia is entertaining one of her school friends, Miss Marie Hopps, who comes from Georgia. Both Miss De Golia and Miss Hopps were students at Mrs. Scoville's School in New York, where they became great friends.

Miss De Golia entertained at cards on Thursday in honor of Miss Hopps, and of Miss Kendall, whose bridesmaid she is to be at the wedding next week.

The De Golia home was very attractive, and made a dainty setting for the bright young people who are Miss De Golia's friends.

The drawing room was very artistically decorated in pink carnations, and there were many flowers, some of them representing the thoughtful gifts of friends.

The De Golia always have very beautiful decorations and they entertain a great deal.

Miss Hopps is a very beautiful

Southern girl, with the most cordial manners. I know she will have a very good time here, for Miss De Golia knows a great many girls—bright and pretty girls—who take a great deal of trouble to make a visitor have a good time. "Five Hundred" was the game of the afternoon; the first prize was won by Miss Christie Taft, and the consolation prize by Miss Isabelle Kendall.

Mrs. De Golia assisted her daughter in receiving her guests, and among those invited to meet Miss Hopps were: Mrs. Max Taft, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. Hugh Webster, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Allender, Miss Nicholson, and the Misses Ada Kenna, Marietta Havens, Myrtle Sims, Gertrude Allen, Helen Chase, May Coogan, Miss Everson, Carolyn Palmanteer, Ruth Kales, the Misses Oliver, Christie Taft, Emily Chickering, Mollie Matthews, Eleanor Geisler, Bessie Haven, Ruth Houghton, Lillie Reed, Louise Hall, Carmen Sutton, Anita Thomson, Letty Barry, Elise Schilling, Marguerite Butters, Evelyn Hussey, Louise Langford, Pansy Perkins, Lucretia Burnham, Marian Walsh, Lillie Isaacs, Anne McElrath, Martha Coffin, Jessie Fox, Isabelle Kendall, Clarisse Loase, Elsie Marwedel, Cordie Bishop, Edith and Bonnie Dowling.

McNABS IN THE SOUTH.

Doctor and Mrs. McNab, formerly, Miss May Young, have taken an apartment in the "Himman Apartment House" in Los Angeles. They have commenced house keeping, and have a very charming, cozy little home, made very pretty with their wedding gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hewlett, formerly Miss Tone Fore, are at the St. Dunstan in San Francisco, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. Hewlett will send out cards next month for ten days at home.

MRS. SCHILLING AT HOME.

Mrs. A. Schilling has Thursday for her day at home, and each week there is a regular tea all over again, with so many people all making their calls for the quiet tea.

It was quite the most beautiful tea that Oakland has seen in many weeks, and Mrs. Schilling was a most cordial hostess to every one.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The engagement was recently announced of Miss Josephine Barracough and Mr. Percival J. Harwood. Miss Barracough is the niece of Mrs. Barracough of Piedmont, with whom she recently made an interesting trip to the Orient.

While in Honolulu Miss Barracough met Mr. Harwood, who has extensive business interests there.

Mrs. Barracough is planning a large wedding for her niece, and it is to take place at the beautiful home in Piedmont.

THE BRATNOBERS RETURN.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bratnober have returned from an Eastern trip, and are at their Piedmont home. A few years ago they purchased the Gamble home at Piedmont, and they have greatly improved both the residence and the beautiful grounds surrounding it. Mr. Bratnober has one of the most interesting dens on this side of the bay. It is built on one corner of the grounds, and is a fine study of native woods.

For ornament the room is lined with magnificent heads, representing buffalo, bison, reindeer, and other big game, probably one of the most notable collections on the coast.

SENATOR PERKINS SOON TO LEAVE.

Senator Perkins and his daughters will leave for Washington on the 29th, and will take apartments there, in which the Senator plans to entertain extensively.

Secretary and Mrs. Victor Metcalf will leave for Washington on the 19th. Mrs. Metcalf was very much shaken up by the recent automobile accident, but she is congratulating herself that matters were not worse.

It is the most foolish thing in the world for the automobilist to imagine he can climb difficult hills with the average machine. Very few machines are good hill climbers. The average driver is all right while he keeps to the level road, but he is all wrong when he thinks he will climb hills by way of variety.

There is a tremendous momentum to the ordinary big automobile, and when it once begins backing down hill there is no stopping it. It either goes over the bank, or straight to the bottom of the hill, and it is up to the driver and everybody else in the automobile to make a wild jump into the air.

That was the matter when the automobile ran away with Miss Amy McKee and Miss Edith Selby. It backed down the Berkeley hills, and Miss Edith Selby has never fairly recovered from the accident and the fright. So Mrs. Metcalf is being congratulated on all sides on her fortunate escape.

BACK FROM HONEYMOON TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. Wigginton Creed are to return this week from an extended wedding trip in Southern California. They are to begin housekeeping in a dainty little East Oakland cottage which has been fitted up for them. They had quantities of exceedingly rare and beautiful wedding gifts so their home is a perfect gem.

Another new East Oakland home is that of Mr. and Mrs. John Valenine, formerly Miss Jacqueline Moore. The new home is being erected not far from that of the A. A. Moores. It will be completed before the Christmas holidays, and one can imagine the many good times which will be planned in it by Mrs. Valenine for her young girl friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chase are also to return next week from their wedding trip. They have wandered far afield, visiting St. Louis, and New York, and Washington. Their home at Piedmont is being fitted up for them, and here also very superb wedding presents add beauty and interest to the new home.

NEW HOME FOR DAVID EDWARDS.

Mr. and Mrs. David Edwards have taken a residence near Bay Place at the foot of Vernon Heights. The home which they occupied so long, near Alta Vista at Piedmont, is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George McNear, Jr.

Another new home at Linda Vista is that of Mr. and Mrs. James Kenna, whose wedding was a quiet one and took place in East Oakland last week.

Three members of the Kenna family have now very pretty homes at Linda Vista—Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Irving Burrell and Mr. James Kenna.

FUTURE SOCIAL DATES.

The future holds many social dates of importance. On Saturday of this week Mr. and Mrs. William Sawyer Snook will receive their friends at a large reception, given to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day. There will be a large gathering of the family, and the reunion of old friends will be immensely interesting. It is a long stretch to look back over fifty years, and many friendships worth while show brightly down the vista.

Another golden anniversary will be kept next Monday, the golden wedding of Doctor and Mrs. Merriman.

There is to be a family gathering at the large home in Piedmont, and the details "are being planned by the daughter of the household, Mrs. Harry Thomas.

RECEPTION AT KLEEMAN HOME.

Tuesday is the day set for the large reception at the Kleeman home on Madison street. It is a great pity that there was a mistake made in the announcement of the receiving party. A part of the guest list got itself mixed up with the receiving party, and the whole list was wrong when it was copied into the papers. It must have given much annoyance to the hostess, for it is so hard to explain a thing like that, and to remove first wrong impressions.

However, the correct list has been announced, and as many cards for the tea have been sent out, there will probably be a large assembly next Tuesday afternoon at the Kleeman home on Madison street.

MRS. DAVIS AT THE EBELL.

Next Tuesday is also the date of the regular Ebelle luncheon. Mrs. William R. Davis is to be the hostess of the day, and there is also to be a large receiving party. In the latter will be Mrs. Wallace Everson, Mrs. L. A. Folger, Mrs. Park Fellows, Mrs. Eastland, Mrs. Du Val, Mrs. George De Golia, Miss Eleanor Drusse, Mrs. Downing.

Mrs. E. L. Dow is chairman of the music committee, and she has supervised a most interesting program. Mrs. Oscar Luning is chairman of the decoration committee of the auditorium, and that means that the decorations will probably be among the most artistic seen at the Ebelle this year, for Mrs. Luning's perfect taste is a matter of local history.

TOURING IN EUROPE.

Doctor Vida Redington and Miss

Lena Redington have gone on from Switzerland to Germany, where they are proposing to spend some part of the winter. They are taking Europe leisurely, finding much to see and to study in these old countries. They do not expect to return home until next May.

MISS KNOX GOES EAST.

Miss Bertha Knox of the High School has taken a leave of absence, and will go East in the near future. After a short stay in New York Miss Knox is going on to Cuba, where she will spend part of the winter.

Her sister, Miss Margaret Knox, is now in Yokohama.

BERNARD MILLER TO TAKE A TRIP.

Mr. Bernard P. Miller goes East early next week on a business trip. Mrs. Miller will remain at their home on Boulevard Terrace. Miss Winifred Burdge will spend the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Miller.

The F. M. Smiths are expected to return in time for Thanksgiving at Arbor Villa.

RUMMAGE SALE FOR FABIOLA.

In the midst of things social the rummage sale for Fabiola is going on, and the sale will last till next Wednesday.

All the friends of Fabiola are sending their contributions, and really the rummage sale has a most creditable assortment of things.

There was a cracked vase there that was the joy of my heart. Some one had grown tired of it, but it was really beautiful.

And that is just the point of a rummage sale. Why should we not pass on things for which we have no longer any room, and of which we are tired? They will be fresh and new and full of interest for some one else.

The committee in charge of the rummage sale is composed of the following members of Fabiola: Mrs. R. W. Gorrill, Mrs. C. D. Gilman, Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Mrs. S. A. O'Neill, Mrs. R. W. McChesney, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Mrs. Edward Remillard, Mrs. William Clift, Mrs. Remi Chabot, Mrs. Isaac Requa, and the president of Fabiola, Mrs. John Yule.

Meanwhile elaborate preparations are being made for the Calendar tea at the home on Madison street of Mrs. Chabot. It will probably be one of the big teas of the holidays, with a musical, and holiday sale combined. And the proceeds are to go to the new "Nurses' Home," which is to be built early in the year.

Miss Julia Morgan drew the plans for the building, and they are very artistic.

Mrs. Isaac Requa is personally superintending all the work. She has established her own little office on the grounds, and has her own telephone, and has gone to work in the most business-like manner, with carefulness and with an energetic enthusiasm that is inspiring.

We may expect great things of the new "Nurses' Home." Mrs. Requa's "office" shows interested visitors every day, and one would not wonder much if Fabiola's Home was to be extensively copied.

MISS ALICE HALL TO BE AT HOME.

Among the interesting November "at homes" will be the one given by Miss Alice Louise Hall, at her home on Thirteenth street.

The tea will be on November 15, from 3 till 5. Miss Hall is one of the younger set of girls who make up the Maple Club of which her mother is one of the patronesses. Miss Hall's young girl friends will be sure to enjoy a pleasant hour.

MRS. WM. CLIFT SENDS OUT CARDS.

Mrs. William Clift has sent out cards for a large reception to be given at her home on San Pablo avenue.

The reception date is Thursday, November 17 and the hours are from 3 until 6 o'clock.

It will be one of the most notable of all the November dates for there is a large family connection and Mrs. Clift and her family have a large circle of friends.

The Clift home has not been closed in years, the family has traveled widely, but there has always been some one of them to keep the old family home open and to make their friends welcome therein.

It will be one of the most interesting and hospitable receptions of the early season.

MARK REQUA GOES EAST.

Mr. Mark Requa recently left for the East on a business trip and expects to be away some weeks.

Mrs. Mark Requa and the children

returned to town a few days ago, having spent the entire summer in the mountains.

FIRST NIGHTS AT THE THEATRE.

First nights at the theatre over here, are getting to be really brilliant affairs and it must be said of us, that when good plays come our way, we are quite ready to go to them.

It is much easier than going across the bay and coming home on that tiresome last boat.

There was once a time when we dressed for everything except the theatre. Now our first nights will compare in brilliant effects with those in the leading theatres across the bay. The audience at "San Toy" at the Macdonough this week was very representative. There were Halloween parties afterwards, and the streets were quite gay.

In the audience were Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown, Mrs. Everts.

Mr. and Mrs. George De Golia chaperoned their daughter Noelle and her guest from the East, Miss Marie Hoppe. Mr. and Mrs. John Connors are very devoted to their niece, Anita Thomson, and they plan many good times for her and her young girl friends. At "San Toy" Mr. and Mrs. Connors entertained Miss Anita Thomson, Miss Ruth Kales, Miss Rose Kales and Miss Ruth Houghton.

Others in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Schilling, Miss Elise Schilling, Carl and Rudolph Schilling, Mrs. Prather, Edna Prather, Edna Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Luning, Miss Elsey, Miss Laura Sanborn, Mr. Cline of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sutton, Miss Carmen Sutton, Miss Letty Barry, Mr. and Mrs. George Dornin, Miss Anita Oliver, Miss Marietta Havens.

THE GAME AT BERKELEY.

Last Saturday is of course, the great football game at Berkeley. Every one is going, of course, and merry parties of young people are being made up and elaborate dinners, both here and in the San Francisco restaurants are to follow the big game.

Of course one's heart is with Berkeley; everybody will join in the big "Oak wow-wow" that echoes over the field. And when time is called on the big game of the year, may victory proudly perch on the banner of the Blue and Gold!

THE MEDDLER.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Mrs. Frederickson and Miss Alva Frederickson after an extended tour through Europe, were met by J. G. Frederickson, in New York. After visiting St. Louis and several other cities in the United States, they returned to their home on Eighth street last week.

Last Saturday night they were given a pleasant surprise party. The evening was spent in music, singing and games. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. Anna Nelson, Mrs. Kirnee, Mrs. P. Nelson, Miss Anita Armstrong, Miss Ruth Armstrong, Miss Patricia Borgeson, Miss Sigmond Borgeson, Miss Gertrude Kirnee, Miss the Olson, Miss Elsie Alberg, Miss

VISITING RELATIVES.

A family gathering was held at Mrs. Jaccard's home on Twelfth street, in honor of J. C. Millan and son, who have been in Vancouver the past two years. They have come to spend the holidays with Mrs. Millan's sisters, J. C. Murdock, Mrs. J. M. Cary, Mrs. Jaccard, and brother, A. J. Trestler. After the holidays J. C. Millan and family will reside in San Diego.

A SILVER WEDDING.

There was a pretty celebration of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. M. Dierksen Wednesday evening at the Piedmont Club House, and a large number of friends gathered to wish them many more years of happiness together. The guests were the recipients of many pretty presents. Following is a list of those who attended:

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dierksen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dierksen, Sacramento; Mrs. J. Hennings, of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Curtiss, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. F. Sondelheimer, Mr. and Mrs. F. CARD CLUB.

One of the card clubs which includes a congenial group of friends met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. D. Mitchell. Supper was served after a game of cards and a pleasant meeting was enjoyed. The president of the club is Miss Frances Schuster and the secretary is Miss Cassie Brown.

The members include Miss Cassie Brown, Mrs. D. Mitchell, Mrs. Chas. Ehret, Mrs. Hall, Miss Frances Schuster, Mrs. Peru, Miss Bessie Hollis, Will Morris, T. J. Feely, Estel Schraeder, J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Burbeck, Chas. Ehret and Mr. Peru. Supper will be served after the club.

AT HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Maxwell are again settled at their pretty home on Twenty-sixth street for the winter.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear Jr., have gone to Santa Barbara to remain several weeks. Their two daughters, who are at school in Santa Barbara, will return with them to spend the holidays here.

Mrs. M. M. Watson of this city is enjoying a stay at Washington. G. D. P. Gray spent several days in San Andreas recently.

Rev. T. G. Brownson was the guest of W. L. Williams recently at Madera. Miss Blanche Powell is a guest of Miss Christina Sharp of Vallejo.

Victor Hartley was a recent visitor in Santa Cruz. D. T. Curtis is in Modesto looking after his land interests.

Miss Helen Gove of this city is the guest of Stockton friends.

MRS. CLIFT HOSTESS.

One of the largest affairs of the season will be the "at home" which Mrs. William Clift is planning to give Thursday afternoon, November 17, at her home on San Pablo avenue. Several hundred cards are out and the receiving party is a large one including Miss Jean Clift, Mrs. Muller Scaries, Mrs. Irving Lundborg, Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham and many others.

ENJOYABLE PARTY.

Miss Birdie Pilcher was hostess Monday evening at a delightful Halloween party given at her home in East Oakland. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Spangler, who have recently returned from an Eastern trip. The house was decorated with jack-o'-lanterns and the hours were spent with Halloween games.

Those present were Mrs. E. W. Pilcher, Miss Birdie Pilcher, Mrs. Bessie Spangler, Miss May Dyer, Miss Elsie Palmer, Mrs. W. D. Dwyer, Mrs. Arthur Deming, Alfred Dwyer, Edmund Dechart, Joseph A. Spangler and Ed Broadwater.

RUTH BARRY ENTERTAINS.

Ruth Barry entertained a number of her young friends at an enjoyable Halloween party last Saturday afternoon. Prizes were won by Lawrence and Allan Spencer, Alta Hansen and Howard Kinsley. Among those present were Sereia Taylor, Alta Madden, Alta Hansen.

RECEPTION TO REV. GEE.

The reception given Rev. Edgar F. Gee on Thursday evening, was a most enjoyable affair. The event was planned to mark the close of the pastor's first year in St. John's Parish and the building was converted into a bower of beauty by tapestries, draperies and palms. They were provided from eight to ten. A most enjoyable program was conducted, all rendered during the intervals of hearty good wishes to the popular young rector by the following: Miss Barstow, contralto solo; Ed. Jordan, cornet solo; Messrs. Barry, Bennett and Baker, mandolin, flute and guitar selection; Miss Morse, soprano solo; Miss Oliver, recitation.

IN A TENT?

It certainly is impossible to secure any hall of sufficient size in the city, and all that is left is to erect a tent on a vacant lot; erect it in a night and tear it down the next morning before the owners could cut it down; or, as a last resort, utilize one of the tall or racing parks. There is one other possibility for the future of fighting here, and that is the rumor that a number of citizens are agitating the convention hall plan. If this were constructed it is believed a lease could be secured by the night managers.

In the East, fights held in baseball parks usually have been failures, as only a limited number of fight fans have telephones or even opera glasses, and it is hard to hear the ring of the corkscrew punch or splash splash of the splattering glove. However, McCarey proposes, if he loses Chutes Park for his next fight, to build a tent and tier up seats on every side of the ring like a circus. This will be only a temporary arrangement, however, for it is the intention at an early date to construct a permanent fight fortress which will be so situated as to be impregnable to the attacks of the petition signers.

This delay and quibble in pugilism here will have its effect on the Sullivan-McCoy fight, if it is pulled off on schedule. Sullivan is always in condition, going ahead with his training as usual, but "Kid" McCoy, is resting on his laurels, awaiting definite information. If McCoy is to fight November 24th he will be in the generally conceded that the result of the fight really hangs on McCoy's condition.

Under a silver bell, beneath which they plighted their troth fifty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. William Sayer Snook received the congratulations of lifelong friends and acquaintances upon the completion of a half century of married life this afternoon at their home at 805 Thirteenth street.

Beside them were their four sons and four daughters and their thirteen grandchildren as the outcome of that union, the anniversary of which they were celebrating.

The event was made the occasion of a family reunion and from the North and South, East and West, the children of the venerable couple gathered to do them honor. Their life has been one free from great vicissitudes. Their children have grown to honorable manhood and womanhood and with the exception of one daughter, each one has taken his or her stand and been married under the same silver bell, whose pealing anthem will still ring out to future generations the tidings of a happy wedding.

For half a century Mr. and Mrs. Snook have been residents of San Francisco and Oakland. Their history has been largely that of the cities in which they have passed their days. They came to the Golden West when life was all before them and the world seemed young. Sutter Creek, Sacramento and San Francisco were in name only but pregnant with promise. Mr. Snook fought his way around the stormy Horn in 1849 in a sailing vessel while Mrs. Snook in a prairie schooner journeyed across the great plains amid a thousand dangers. He was from New York, she from Wisconsin and they met in San Francisco and were married on November 5, 1854. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Snook was Miss Susan Laughran.

Eleven years after their marriage they moved to Oakland and for the last fourteen years have lived in the house they now occupy. During the exciting years when the gold fever was at its height Mr. Snook stayed by his plumb business which he has followed through all these years and which has enabled him to provide for the needs and comforts of a large family besides giving his children a liberal education.

Their first-born was named George W. and he now lives at Sacramento; the second was Frederick W. whose home is in Berkeley; the third is Attorney Charles E. Snook of this city; the fourth is James A. who has his home at Ross Station in Marin County. The daughters are Mrs. Owen Tupper, Mrs. E. W. Williams, Mrs. E. L. Wemple and Miss Susan H. Snook.

At the reception this afternoon Mrs. William Snook was assisted in receiving her guests by her four daughters and four daughters-in-law and three granddaughters, Miss Helen Tupper, Miss Mildred Snook and little Helen J. Snook.

The grandchildren who will gather this evening beneath the roof tree are as follows: children of George, Whitfield, Robert and Frederick; children of Frederick, Miss Mildred, children of James, Athearn, Sayer and Jonathan; children of Charles, Wade, Preston and Helen J.; children of Mrs. Cupper, Helen and Mitchell; of Mrs. Williams, Edward W. Jr.

The house was beautifully decorated with greens and gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums. Nearly two hundred guests and acquaintances called to offer their hearty congratulations and best wishes to the couple upon the rounding out of a happy and useful career.

Age has not lessened their appreciation of the love and affection of their children and their friends and while Mr. Snook is now 75 and his life's partner 70, they still have the promise of many years of happiness in which to contemplate and enjoy the fruits of their life's efforts.

Their sons and daughters are all prominent and honorable members of society. George W. Snook, the eldest son, has a responsible position in the State Department at Sacramento. Frederick W. Snook, while his home is in Berkeley, is in business with his father in San Francisco.

Attorney Charles E. Snook is one of the State's most prominent lawyers. He is legal adviser of the Board of Regents of the State University and the firm of Snook and Church have handled some of the most famous legal cases in the history of the State.

James A. Snook is a prominent business man of San Francisco and has his home in Mill Valley.

Three of the daughters are well and comfortably married while Miss Susan H. Snook remains with her parents, a comfort to them in their old age. She is a valued and capable member of the school department of the city.

Included: Arthur Gould, Willie West, Dick McClure, Donald McClure, James Barrett, Paul Barrett, Edward Martin, Richard Barrett, Arthur Cunningham, Herbert Becker, Gustave Becker, Granville Martin, Justin McCarthy, Fillmore Adams and Tom Hogan.

"LIFE AFTER DEATH" IS HIS SUBJECT.

The well known lecturer and student of psychology, Rev. H. C. Coe, Esq., who is a member of the eminent body of scientists mentioned, is in the city and announces that he will prove by scientific means the "Existence of Life After Death." Also, in presenting evidence of an unusual kind, which is attracting the attention of men of science, he will exhibit stereopticon illustrations of results obtained by experts through the use of a graphic camera at Fraternal Hall, 1156 Washington street, 8 p. m. tomorrow.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively cleanses and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe skin tonic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfests the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon lead to a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

MISS BRAMHALL GIVES A PLEASANT AFFAIR AT HER HOME.

One of the most enjoyable of the Halloween parties was that given last Saturday evening by Miss Florence Bramhall, at her home on Twelfth and Fybert streets, to about thirty young guests. Miss Bramhall was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. L. F. Bramhall, and Mrs. Streub of Alameda.

The decorations were in true Halloween fashion, and all the rooms, which were beautifully decorated, were lighted by candles set in lanterns of fantastic shapes.

It was a shawl and pillow-case affair, and great fun was experienced guessing at identities until unmasking came. Games and refreshments filled the hours.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bramhall, Miss Florence Bramhall, Mr. W. O. Bramhall, Mrs. Streub, Misses Attie Alexander, Sadie Sigourney, Gene Baker, Daphne Jordan, Ursula Langan, Susana Miller, Anna Bernays, Hester Rowley, Katherine Benson, Alice Rowley and Helen Sutphen, Ione Connor of Alameda; Messrs. High, Cecil Baker, Donald McBoyle, Louis Walton, Gene Walton, Lawrence Marshall, Jerrold Meigs, Phillip Langan, Chester Langan, J. Green Jackson, Robert Sharon and Eugene Parker.

PROMINENT JEWISH CITIZENS MEET AND EFFECT ORGANIZATION.

The Concordia, a new Jewish social and literary club, was organized in Foster's Hall last evening at a meeting of prominent Jewish citizens. There are twenty-five charter members. The officers elected are as follows: President, Gus Cohn; Vice-president, Morris Schneider; secretary, Fred Bauer; treasurer, S. Klein; directors—Julius Ahlshagen, L. B. Goldbers, Bert Lissner and L. D. M. M. M.

Secretary Bauer says there will be some social events in the near future under the auspices of the club, the first of which is planned, will occur next Tuesday evening.

The question of permanent quarters for the club has been informally considered, but no definite action has yet been decided upon, as the organization considers itself scarcely more than in a preliminary state at the present time. The Concordia will, it is planned, have a fine and elegant future, clubrooms thoroughly up-to-date in every particular.

GOLDEN GATE NOTES. The ladies of the Methodist Church are very busy over their election dinner which is to be served in A. G. Annie Plumbing Shop near corner San Pablo and Stanford avenues. It is to be a fashionable New England dinner and all the good things that our mothers used to make will be dished up.

The New Methodist Parsonage has become a social center for that church. In the last month there has been had there numerous banquets and socials and the good things that our mothers used to make will be dished up.

The Haloween party held last Monday evening was a very pronounced success.

YOUNG HOST. Tom Hogan entertained thirteen young friends last Friday evening at his home on Oak street. The occasion was his thirteenth birthday and he assembled guests enjoyed a delightful time.

Games of various kinds were enjoyed and prizes were secured by Dick McClure, Edward Martin, Donald McClure and James Barrett.

SUPERVISOR ROWE REFUTES ANONYMOUS CHARGES.

Members of the Grand Jury Issue a Statement Vindicating Him From False Accusations.

Supervisor Rowe has addressed a circular letter to his constituents answering certain false and scandalous allegations contained in an anonymous circular distributed throughout his district. He encloses with the letter a statement signed by the foreman, secretary and other members of the last Grand Jury completely refuting the charges set forth in the anonymous circular. Mr. Rowe himself flatly contradicts the more serious allegations in detail, and points out their source and animus. His letter and the statement from members of the Grand Jury are as follows:

Dear Sir:—In as much as a great amount of literature has been circulated throughout the Fourth Supervisorial District in the interest of one of my opponents, tending to convict me of extravagance and reckless waste of County moneys, as a member of the Board of Supervisors, I feel that I owe to my constituents a fair statement of my record as their representative on the Board during the past four years.

Let me first point out a few of the many glaring falsehoods and misstatements contained in the charge made, as conclusive of their general unreliability:

In one of these circulars is printed a map purporting to show the roads in this Supervisorial District, as well as the actual distances from my residence. Not one-sixth of the roads in the district are shown on the map, and the distances are measured by the air-line route.

In this connection the same people who have issued this pamphlet had an irresponsible person file an accusation against me to have me ousted from office, setting forth these same bills in detail and alleging specifically that during the last four years I had defrauded the County of the aggregate amount of $38.50 in excess mileage charges. So well did they know that the charges were false that they did not even swear to the accusation as required by law, and when the case was called in court the attorney for the complainant himself practically admitted that they were without standing, refusing to amend the accusation. The Grand Jury being then in session, at my demand investigated the matter and presented the following as their report:

"We have investigated the charge brought against Supervisor H. D. Rowe in regard to his having charged excessive mileage, and in our judgment Supervisor Rowe did not overcharge mileage but acted within the law provided to govern Supervisors in the matter of mileage."

In a criticism upon the construction of the tunnel connecting Alameda and Contra Costa Counties it is alleged that I charged for buggy hire various extravagant sums aggregating over $1000. I NEVER AT ANY TIME charged the County of Alameda a single penny for buggy hire, yet the whole intent of the charge as printed is to convey the impression that the various items were charged for and collected by me, a statement absolutely untrue.

Another article headed "Another Ballot Machine Deal in Prospect" intimates that I intend to do what I can to proceed to the letting of a contract for the purchase of 100 machines when only 71 were required or could be used. They do not say that when the original contract was let I fought it from start to finish and favored the purchase of only 70 machines in order that they might be given a thorough trial, and the County not put to a heavy loss. Neither do they say that I have repeatedly, in open meeting of the Board of Supervisors, opposed the payment of many bills which to me seemed either extravagant or unnecessary. Neither do they say that it was I who defeated the equipment of the Treasurer's office with a counting device and safe at a cost of $35,000. Why are they silent as to these things? Why do they distort the facts to make it appear that I am unworthy of the support of good citizens? Because the author of all these articles is Stuart MacMullan. Does he acknowledge them? Will you find any name on these circulars as accepting the responsibility for them?

Stuart MacMullan is the son-in-law of one of the candidates for the position of Supervisor. Stuart MacMullan has a claim against the County for over $22,000, which he claims as commissions on the assessment of property he alleges to have discovered. Perhaps Stuart MacMullan reasons that if his father-in-law were Supervisor he would stand a better chance to get the $22,000 than if I were Supervisor. This may explain it all.

In conclusion permit me to say that I believe I have earned the support of my constituents. I have never wrongfully erred. I have always stood for the right and for what I believe to be for the best interests of this County. If re-elected, I shall do everything in my power, as I have in the past, to keep down expenditures to a proper basis, safeguarding the interests of the taxpayers at all times.

Faithfully yours,
H. D. ROWE.

STATEMENT OF THE GRAND JURY.

To the voters of the Fourth Supervisorial District of Alameda County.—Believing that a political campaign should be conducted in the interest of truth and fair dealing, we wish to call attention to the following statement of facts bearing on the candidacy of H. D. Rowe for re-election to the position of Supervisor of Alameda County:

Several months ago one J. E. Guillaumet made an accusation against Mr. Rowe, in which it was charged that Mr. Rowe had presented claims against the county for mileage in excess of the lawful amount due, and charging that he had endeavored to collect a larger compensation for services rendered the county than he was entitled to by law. Supervisor Rowe immediately appeared before the Grand Jury and requested the fullest investigation.

The Superior Court refused to hear the case unless properly verified, but the Grand Jury made a thorough investigation, examined many witnesses, and made a report in the following words:

"We have investigated the charge brought against Supervisor H. D. Rowe in regard to his having charged excessive mileage, and in our judgment Supervisor Rowe did not overcharge mileage, but acted within the law provided to govern Supervisors in the matter of mileage."

It would seem as if a report of this kind made by nineteen representative citizens sworn to do their duty, without fear or favor, would be conclusive.

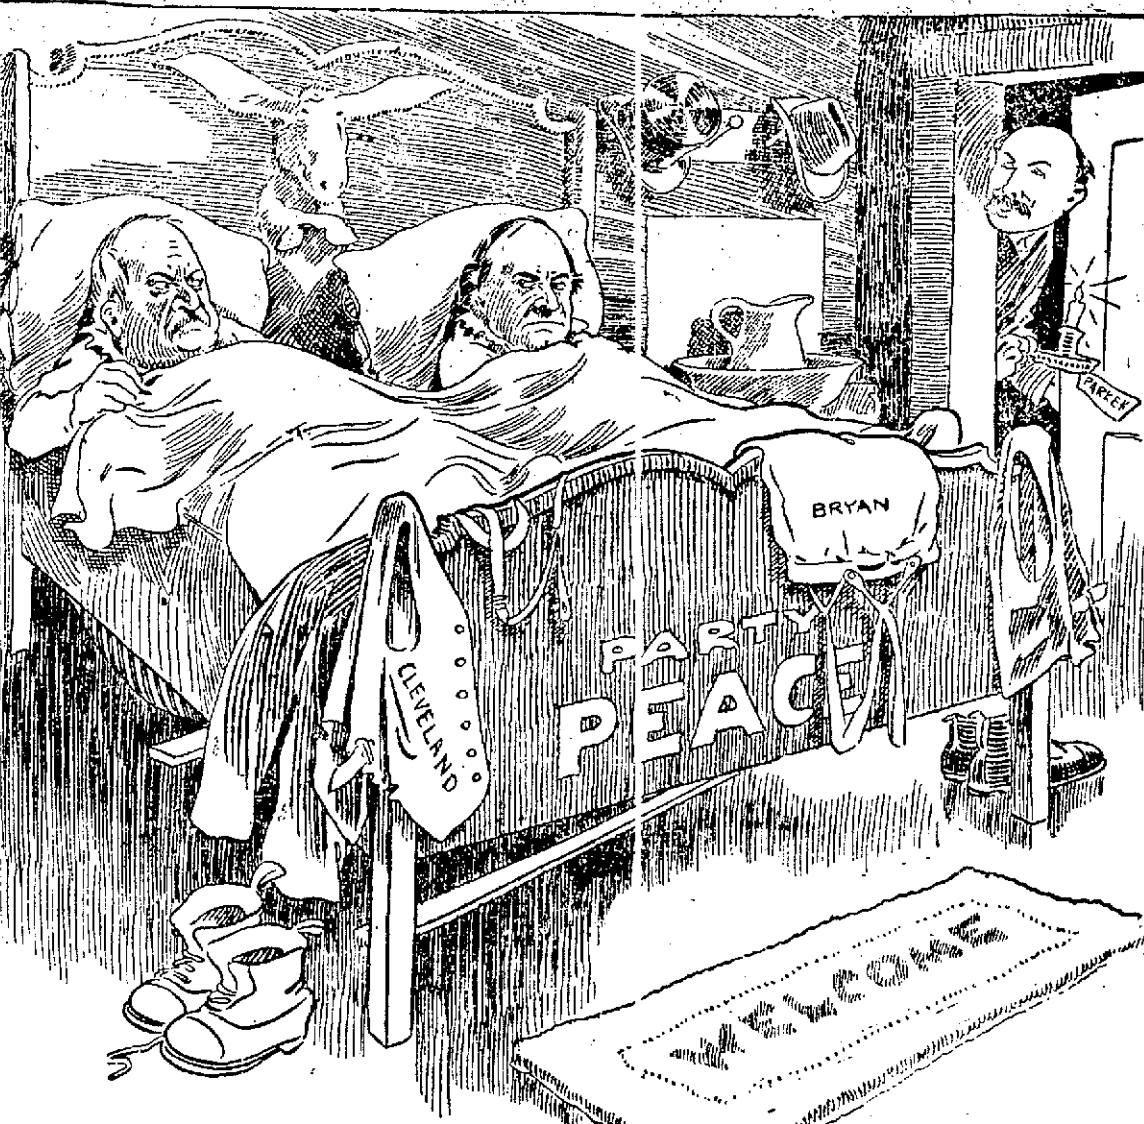

Now, on the eve of election, an anonymous publication is issued reaffirming the charges and adding others thereto.

We do not believe that this is a legitimate way of conducting a political campaign, and we think the motives which prompt such methods should be looked into.

The motives which prompt these publications are entirely selfish and personal, and are in the interest of one of the candidates against Mr. Rowe, which candidate is a family connection of the person publishing these attacks on the honesty and integrity of Mr. H. D. Rowe.

Without desiring in any manner to interfere in a political contest between citizens, we still feel as members of the Grand Jury who

THE JUDGE—"Pleasant dreams."

—Chicago News.

PUT 'EM OVER

HE CAN'T STRIKE OUT WITH THAT STICK.

—Baltimore American.

investigated these matters in the most thorough way, that only the truth should be published.

We feel that an injustice is being done to Mr. Rowe by the anonymous publication of statements, many of which cannot be verified by testimony and still seem to be plausible owing to the cunning way in which they are brought out.

We ask the voters of the District to judge fairly for themselves between the candidates and allow truth and honesty to be the guide of their votes.

ASSAULTED BY FEMALE CONVICT

ALBURN, N. Y., November 5.—Mrs. Annie M. Welsh, matron of the State prison here, has been beaten almost to death by an infuriated female convict. The latter is a woman of great strength. She is believed to have suddenly lost her mind.

Mrs. Welsh was requested by the woman to grant her an interview in the matron's office and at once summoned the prisoner. Without a word of warning the woman picked up a chair when she entered the room and shattered it over the matron's head, falling her with the first blow. The infuriated prisoner then began to beat the matron over the head with a club.

Another woman convict, who acted as a servant, hurried to the rescue and also was knocked down. But for the timely arrival of the engineer and the gatekeeper the victims probably would have been killed. After a terrific struggle the two men succeeded in overpowering the frenzied convict.

UNION LABOR IS FOR SUPERVISOR HORNER.

Declaration That He Will Be Elected in the First District By a Large Majority.

The Union Label, a labor union paper, has the following to say regarding Supervisor Horner:

"The subject of this sketch is so well and favorably known in the First Supervisorial District that comment on his candidacy seems hardly necessary. He is the nominee of the Union Labor and Republican parties and his election is already assured, it being merely a question of majority. C. F. Horner is not only a Native Son of the Golden West but of Alameda County. Born at Irvington, Washington Township, Alameda County forty-five years ago, he has been identified with the development, growth and prosperity of Alameda County ever since.

"His father manufactured the first sack of flour ever sold in the State of California and it brought the magnificent figure of $100.

"The beautiful roads, driveways and bridges in the upper end of the county are a fine testimonial to the earnest and zealous efforts of Mr. Horner in the Board of Supervisors, and their condition at present has been and will ever be Mr. Horner's pride. He is extensively engaged in fruit raising, and has ever been the friend of labor, of whom he is a heavy employer. We conscientiously commend him to the earnest consideration of all the voters of the First Supervisorial District, and we point with pride to his monuments therein as a testimonial of his efforts, which will be enlarged in the future. Therefore give Horner a rousing majority and you will never have cause to regret it."

GREAT MEETING HELD IN THE FORTY-NINTH.

Workmen of West Oakland gathered in Alcatraz Hall last evening for the purpose of enjoying a "smoker" given under the auspices of the Forty-ninth Assembly District Republican Club, and to listen to the addresses of candidates. The meeting was one of the most successful of the campaign, the large hall being crowded with voters who signified their approval of the program.

RECEIVE GUESTS.
Frank D. Williams, a member of the County Committee and State Central Committee, Robert Yates, a prominent Republican and a number of others well known in West Oakland were present to receive the visitors and to assist in the management of the evening.

CHAIRMAN HANLEY.
The meeting was called to order by Martin Hanley, as chairman of the evening. "I bid you all welcome on behalf of the Forty-ninth Assembly District Republican Club," said Chairman Hanley.

"We Republicans have met here this evening for the purpose of enjoying a little 'smoker' and to listen to the remarks of the various candidates on the ticket, the ticket that will poll an overwhelming vote in this district. That's all. Smoke up. Enjoy yourself. Pipes, tobacco and light refreshments have been provided and they are yours for the evening."

J. J. BURKE.
J. J. Burke, candidate for assembly from the Forty-ninth district, was then called upon. He said in part: "There is no question but that this election will go almost unanimously for Roosevelt and the Republican ticket. Of myself I will say nothing. I have lived in your midst and you all know me. If you honor me with your vote, I will strive to do my best in the assembly for you and your interests. I will enter office, should it be your will that I should, with the intention of doing my best and come out just as clean as I enter."

PARDEE'S LETTER.
Mr. Burke then read Governor Pardee's letter as published in last night's TRIBUNE. The heart-to-heart communication for the State's official to the club was greatly appreciated and frequently applauded.

ARTHUR MAGILL.
While refreshments were being passed around, Arthur Magill gave a well rendered selection on the piano. He was followed by Milton Schwartz in a German monologue.

A. H. BREED.
A. H. Breed, City Assessor, was next called upon. He predicted that the Republican ticket would poll a large majority and that the Forty-ninth district would do its share.

BURKE AND MITCHELL.
"I want to urge you as a friend to vote for John Mitchell and Jack Burke," said the speaker. "They both deserve your support. Mr. Mitchell has been found true to your interests and Jack Burke you have known as a boy and know now as a man and a gentleman deserving your most loyal support."

CHARLES E. SNOOK.
One of the best addresses of the evening was made by a young Charles E. Snook, who paid a glowing tribute to the Republican party. Roosevelt, Fairbanks, local candidates and closed with predicting a great majority for the ticket.

PRaises BURKE.
"It is no doubt useless for me," said Attorney Snook, "to solicit your aid for John Burke, for I know he will receive your undivided support. He is in my law office and is one of the most successful attorneys in Oakland. He is a clever, young man and well able to represent your interests in the Assembly. I have known him for years and can vouch for him. But this is his home, you are his neighbors so I am sure that you know your duty and will answer duty's call to the polls."

"We have in Mr. Mitchell an honest man who has well represented this district. Take his record from beginning to end and you have a man who thoroughly represents the people in a competent and courageous manner. Both deserve your hearty support which I doubt not they will freely receive."

GARRETT AND STROBRIDGE.
Songs by Messrs. Garrette and Strobridge, accompanied on the piano by Arthur Magill, were then enjoyed.

BOXING BOUT.
Here came one of the features of the evening. It was a boxing exhibition between George Brown and Jack Dolan of the West Oakland Athletic Club. Both lads cut loose and gave a lively bout for three rounds. Harry Magill, the pugilistic expert, acted as referee and added to his popularity and reputation by calling the roll a draw.

JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND.
The next speaker was Senator Joseph R. Knowland, who was hurried to the hall in a hack in order to appear at the meeting. After paying a tribute to the heads of the Republican ticket, the speaker said:

"I believe that it is a duty you owe to yourself to elect Phil Walsh. He has served you well and he deserves your support."

"From every indication I believe that John Mitchell will be returned to the office of Supervisor. He has made a good official, has represented you well and deserves your hearty support. "While Mr. Burke has never held an office, he is a worthy young man, has lived all his life in this district, is an attorney of ability and has the capabilities of a statesman. Everything points to his election to office."

"We know that under Republican policies that we have enjoyed prosperity and on the other hand during the Democratic administrations we have not. The chief issue of this campaign is: 'Are you satisfied with President Roosevelt and his acts?' From what I can learn all are and I believe that when the votes are counted next Tuesday, California will go nearly 60,000 majority for the head of the ticket and that Alameda county will regain the banner."

LABOR BILL.

"It has and will be my policy to support any measure pertaining to the laborer which I think to be just and right. I had the pleasure to support the eight hour law and when I go to Washington, if it be your pleasure, I will continue to do in the future as I have in the past."

"In conclusion let me urge you to vote the entire Republican ticket from top to bottom."

MANDOLIN QUARTET.

After Senator Knowland had concluded, a mandolin quartet rendered an interesting selection. The quartet was followed by the Berkeley quartet.

JOHN MITCHELL.

A rousing ovation was given Supervisor John Mitchell, candidate for reelection, who was the next speaker of the evening.

"Friends of West Oakland—I am happy to be here in the home of your next Assemblyman, John J. Burke."

"For myself, I am glad to be the candidate for Supervisor on the Republican ticket—I am proud of it. If you can conscientiously vote for me, do so."

"I have lived in this district for twenty-eight years and for seven years in your midst."

"I am proud to be able to say that I am a member of the Board of Supervisors that has dared to spend money for the best interests of the county and for the county's improvement."

ANONYMOUS CIRCULAR.

"Just a word relative to that anonymous circular that is going around. It is a lot of lies from beginning to end. Take one item for instance. It says that we spent money for the expense of road work. There had been nine inches of rain. That alleged fact has been investigated and it was found that the money was spent for the painting of a sprinkling cart. That is a sample of what is contained in that circular."

The speaker closed by urging that all vote for the Republican candidates.

PHIL M. WALSH.

The next speaker was Phil M. Walsh, who gave a brief outline of the Republican issues which he illustrated with amusing stories.

In closing he made a strong plea for the candidacy of J. J. Burke and Supervisor Mitchell, both of whom, he predicted, would be elected.

FELTON TAYLOR.

A strong plea for the Republican ticket from top to bottom was made by Felton Taylor. He was heartily cheered when he took the platform and every mention of the name of any of the candidates called for applause. He urged that the Forty-ninth district poll an unusually heavy vote for J. J. Burke and declared that from all indications the election of John Mitchell was assured.

CHEERS FOR TICKET.

After several selections had been given by the Berkeley Quartet and Milton Schwartz had entertained with a story, the speaker was adjourned with three cheers for the Republican ticket and party.

A Thoughtful Man.

M. M. Spaulding, of Windsor, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only one at Ogden from drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington.

Lively Fight Over the Superior Judges in San Francisco.

The KNAVE

President Roosevelt Will Carry California by Splendid Majority

SAN FRANCISCO, November 5.—This city is very rapidly getting away from the old political lines and drifting into new and dangerous ones. It begins to appear that the coming political struggles are to be between the Citizens' Alliance and the labor unions. The two forces are now in a whirl over the Superior Court Judges.

The Citizens' Alliance came out with an indorsement of the four incumbents, Seawell, Murasky, Troutt and Kerrigan. The politicians considered this a very bad move as it tended to stir up the unions to swat all four of them. But now comes Mayor Schmitz in a letter indorsing Murasky, Burchard, Gallagher and Conlan, the labor union nominees. The politicians throw up their hands again. Certain it is that there is a bit of a revolt in the Citizens' Alliance over this indorsement of Murasky, and the Mayor's letter will lose him more votes than he will gain by it. The Citizens' Alliance letter has hurt Troutt, rather than helped him as he is supposed to be the weakest of the incumbents.

The wise men seem to have picked Seawell to win as a certainty. Yet he is on but one ticket, the Democratic, and that has been proven to be the weakest ticket in the field when the parties split into three parts. Unquestionably there is a stout non-partisan movement for Seawell, but the question grows whether this movement will be strong enough to overcome his handicap of being on but one ticket.

Now Gallagher and Burchard have two nominations each—the Republican and the Union Labor. Yet the wise men do not count on either to win. It is figured that sufficient Republicans and Union Labor voters will abandon their tickets to make the election of Gallagher and Burchard impossible, though the lamping of the votes of the two parties would seem to make an election sure.

Then the guess is whether Conlan will be able to defeat Troutt or Kerrigan. Conlan has the Democratic and Union Labor nominations, and the "push" is working hard for him. The ideas as to whether he will be elected vary as widely as the poles are separated.

But those who really study politics have quit guessing on the Judges. Few people talk politics, and any sort of a surprise may come out of the mix-up. The Roosevelt landslide may carry all four Republicans with it, as this year it is easy to stamp a straight ballot, and a great many voters vote along the line of least resistance. That Roosevelt will carry the city by a big plurality seems a foregone conclusion, and these landslide years upset all sorts of wise calculations.

Chairman Stone of the Republican State Central Committee says he will bet that Roosevelt will have 40,000 plurality in the State but that he will not bet on 50,000. He says the apathy will result in a light vote, though there is a large registration. So he does not count on the tremendous vote that some Republicans expect.

But one of the men connected with Southern Pacific politics gave me an estimate of 70,000 plurality for Roosevelt as a minimum, and said he would be very much disappointed if it did not go over that figure. He says there will be 20,000 south of Tehachapi, 10,000 in San Francisco, 8,000 to 10,000 in Alameda and Contra Costa, 2,500 each in Sacramento and Santa Clara, 3,000 in Humboldt, close to a thousand each in Marin and San Mateo—and so down the line, with even Fresno showing a fat figure on the Roosevelt side. The most optimistic Democrats seem to admit about 30,000 for Roosevelt. But neither side has any actual figures. There has, in fact, been no campaign.

In the Democratic camp is war and mismanagement. Chairman Tim Spellacy hurls anathemas at Secretary Tommy Walsh, and between them nothing much is done. They exhaust their energies in expressing disesteem one of the other. The out-and-out foolishness of the Democratic campaign was never better illustrated than in the calling of the mass meeting last Monday night. Anybody would think that a ten-year-old child would have sense enough not to call a mass meeting on the night of the Britt-Gans fight—and Hallowe'en at that. But the Democratic managers picked that night of all others to give Governor Chamberlain of Oregon a chance to speak.

And then, when they got Chamberlain here, what do you think they did to him? Why, Franklin K. Lane got the floor and talked about an hour. Then he introduced James D. Phelan, who talked another hour. Then, when the tired and disgusted people were filing out by dozens poor Chamberlain was given a chance to talk and had to cut short his speech. That was hardly courtesy to a man who had come so far.

Our Merchants' Association is just now coming in for a loud ha, ha! Really, our Merchants' Association is a good deal of a buff. It makes many statements, but rarely has many facts to back them. Recently it sent a lot of stuffers to Registrar Adams, and he has shown that many of those on the list are prominent citizens or men who have died since registration. Of course there is some stuffing; but it is less than usual because there is less than the usual interest. But the Merchants' Association is hardly the body to find anything unusual in politics, unless it should apply to some of its members who have held office. It is an axiom among politicians that the crookedest office-holder is the man who was known as a "respectable merchant."

But just to make the matter thoroughly humorous the Merchants' Association has sent out press circulars about its forthcoming banquet. It boldly announces that Gavin McNab will tell the people how to do away with crookedness in politics. And here is how the circular says it:

"It will be the province of Gavin McNab to tell the people of San Francisco what they can do about it, and how. He will speak to the assemblage on the subject of 'Practical Politics,' and his address will be a message to all the decent population of San Francisco capable of being led to its duty. A great many of the most ardently patriotic men in the community deplore the downward tendency of public affairs, but think themselves powerless to make things better because they don't know where to begin. To them practical politics is a mystery. Natural taste, mental equipment and habit of life operate to keep them out of it; but principally a very natural diffidence about going into something they know little about. They need instruction in the art. They need to be shown that it is not so mysterious and difficult after all, and that there is nothing impossible about making themselves effective and influential to the extent of their capacity if they will only exert themselves in the right way.

"Mr. McNab will show them what that way is. Nobody in San Francisco is better qualified to give voters primer instructions in political service and civic duty; and it is a fortunate conjunction of circumstances that he has the disposition to do it, while the Association can offer to the occasion a large public gathering eager to hear him. It is possible that a salutary change in the attitude of San Francisco citizens toward politics will date from this event. Over 400 guests are expected to attend."

Now, Gavin McNab, who has a fine sense of humor all his own, must have laughed at that even harder than did everybody else with political sense. Gavin enjoys a joke, and this one on the Merchants' Association is a wonder.

And then the Merchants' Association made a blunder when it refused Mayor Schmitz a place on the program for a representative of his administration. If the Association had given the Mayor a chance, he might have sent Ruef to the feast; but that would have been an acknowledgment of Ruef's mastery over him. He might have sent Countryman, but the other speakers could have had fun with Countryman. It is hard to think who he could have sent to the banquet, except Ruef, who could have held his own with McNab, Phelan and Fairfax Wheelan. But to deny him a hearing is to make a martyr of him and to postpone by just so long the return of the Mayor to the fiddle. The Merchants' Association fatigues and pains.

Speaking of Schmitz and the fiddle, there grows more and more the sentiment that the reaction from the present riot of grafting will send the city back to Phelan. There always is a reaction in such things, and no man can foretell the result. But every day some man is heard to say that Phelan will be the next Mayor, and a bet or two has passed on the subject. I imagine that Phelan is in the position of Barkis.

The decision of Judge Hebbard against the Ruef-Schmitz men on the Board of Health has caused a bit of a stir. Some have seen in it a hint of the parting of the ways between Herrin and Ruef. You know, in some of our San Francisco courts we get decisions not according to the law and the gospel, but according to influence and control. Hebbard is booked as "Herrin straight." So when the Board of Health cases got into his court it was supposed that Ruef would be able to get a decision holding his men in their jobs. But now Hebbard has sustained the Civil Service and ousted the Ruef men. So no wonder there is comment here and there and a great deal of inquiry and speculation.

I picked up a card the other day issued by William E. Costley, Socialist candidate for Congress in the Fourth district. On the card is printed one soak for Kahn and another for Livernash. And then comes this unique appeal: "Or, will you vote for William E. Costley, the workingman candidate, who has repeatedly gone to jail in the interest of his class."

I wonder what Socialists of the Jack London type think of the candidate who goes to jail. It is a unique recommendation.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SCORES JUDGE PARKER

NEW YORK JURIST GUILTY OF CONDUCTING CAMPAIGN OF FALSEHOOD

WASHINGTON, November 5.—President Roosevelt last night made the following signed statement to the American people in answer to "Certain slanderous accusations, as to Mr. Cortelyou in public speeches by Mr. Parker Democratic candidate for the Presidency:

"White House, Washington, Nov. 4.

"Certain slanderous accusations as to Mr. Cortelyou and myself have been repeated time and again by Judge Parker, the candidate of his party for the office of President. He neither has produced nor can produce any proof of the truth of the charges, yet he has not withdrawn them, and as his position gives them wide currency I speak now lest the silence of self-respect be misunderstood. Mr. Parker's charges are, in effect, that the President of the United States and Mr. Cortelyou, formerly Mr. Cleveland's executive clerk, then Mr. McKinley's and my secretary, then Secretary of Commerce and Labor and now chairman of the Republican National Committee, have been in a conspiracy to blackmail the corporations, Mr. Cortelyou using his knowledge gained while he was Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor to extort money from the corporations, and I, the President, having appointed him for this special purpose. The gravamen of these charges lies in the assertion that the corporations have been blackmailed into contributing and in the implication, which in one or two of Mr. Parker's speeches has taken the form practically of an assertion, that they have been promised certain immunities or favors, or have been assured that they would receive some kind of improper consideration in view of their contributions.

"That contributions have been made to the Republican committee, as contributions have been made to the Democratic committee, is not the question at issue.

NOT A PARTICLE OF TRUTH IN PARKER'S STATEMENT.

"Mr. Parker's assertion is, in effect, that such contributions have been made for improper motives, either in consequence of threats or in consequence of improper promises, direct or indirect, on the part of the recipients. Mr. Parker knows best whether this is true of the contributions to his campaign fund, which have come through his trusted friends and advisers, who represent the great corporate interests that stand behind him. But there is not the particle of truth in the statement as regards anything that has gone on in the management of the Republican campaign. Mr. Parker's accusations against Mr. Cortelyou and myself are monstrous. If true they would brand both of us forever with infamy, and for inasmuch as they are false, heavy must be the condemnation of the man making them.

"I chose Mr. Cortelyou as chairman of the national committee after having failed successively to persuade Elihu Root, W. Murray Crane and Cornelius N. Bliss to accept the position. I chose him with extreme reluctance, because I could ill spare him from the Cabinet. But I felt that he possessed the high integrity which I demanded in the man who was to manage my campaign. I am content that Mr. Parker or I should be judged by the public on the characters of the two men whom we chose to manage our campaigns—he by the character of his nominee, Thomas Taggart, and I by the character of Mr. Cortelyou.

PARKER GUILTY OF MONSTROUS FALSEHOODS.

"The assertion that Mr. Cortelyou had any knowledge gained while in any official position whereby he was enabled to secure and did secure any contributions from any corporation is a falsehood. The assertion that here has been any blackmail, direct or indirect, by Mr. Cortel-you or by me is a falsehood. The assertion that there has been made in behalf of and by authorization of Mr. Cortelyou or by any one else, any pledge or promise, or that there has been any understanding as to future immunities or benefits in recognition of any contribution from any source, is a wicked falsehood.

"That Mr. Parker should desire to avoid the discussion of principles I can well understand, for it is but the bare truth to say that he has not attacked us on any matter of principle or upon any action of the Government save after first misstating that principle or that action. But I cannot understand how any honorable man, a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people, can take refuge not merely in personalities, but in such base and unworthy personalities.

ASKS ALL HONEST MEN TO COMPARE ADMINISTRATIONS.

"If I deemed it necessary to support by flat denial by any evidence I would ask all men of common sense to ponder well what has been done in this campaign by Mr. Cortelyou and to compare it with what Mr. Parker himself did when he was managing Mr. Hill's campaign for Governor, and to compare what has been done as regards the great corporations and money interests in this administration with what was done under the last Democratic administration while Mr. Olney was Attorney General; I would ask all honest men whether they seriously deem it possible that the course this administration has taken in every matter, from the Northern Securities suit to the settlement of the anthracite coal strike, is compatible with any theory of public behavior save the theory of doing exact justice to all men without fear and without favoritism; I would ask all honest and fair-minded men to remember that the agents through whom I have worked are Mr. Knox and Mr. Moody in the Department of Justice, Mr. Cortelyou in the Department of Commerce and Labor and Mr. Garfield in the Bureau of Corporations, and that no such act of infamy as Mr. Parker charges could have been done without all these men being parties to it.

"The statements made by Mr. Parker are unqualifiedly and atrociously false. As Mr. Cortelyou has said to me more than once during this campaign, if elected I shall go into the Presidency unhampered by any pledge, promise or understanding of any kind, save my promise made openly to the American people that, so far as in my power lies, I shall see to it that every man has a square deal, no less and no more.

NEWS FROM S. P. YARDS.

MOTOR AT WEST OAKLAND SHOP—SOME RAILROAD PERSONALS.

One of the three electric motors to be used for furnishing power in the shops of the Southern Pacific Company at West Oakland has arrived at the yards. This motor is of five horse power and will be used to furnish motive power to the tool room. The other two motors are of thirty-horse power and are expected to arrive any day. The motor already at the yards will not be placed in position until the two other motors arrive.

PREPARING FOR BOILERS.

William Cooper, foreman of the boiler department of the West Oakland shops, is busily engaged in making preparation to install the boilers ordered in the East for Southern Pacific car barges Nos 1 and 2. While the boilers are to come from the East, Foreman Cooper has a great deal of work to do preparing for their installation. His department has to make a portion of the machinery and this will be finished by the arrival of the two boilers.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and curing the system generally, by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The treatment is simple, and is not attended by any of those painful and dangerous curative powers that they offer. One hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. W. D. MERRILL

PORCINE COURTESY.

Governor Chamberlain of Oregon was the drawing card at the Democratic meeting last Monday night, and his speech was to have been the "event of the evening," but it happened that Franklin K. Lane was the chairman, and that with characteristic loyalty he gave Mr. James D. Phelan a chance to butt in. In the cir-

PROFESSOR GAYLEY A WONDER.
It is not long since a professor from Europe was discussing, at Berkeley, a great book that was just from the press. He told of its perfect diction, its fine facts and smoothness of the lines, when suddenly he awoke to the fact that not a person from President Wheeler down to the most unimportant assistant was one bit enthusiastic over his description. "You do not seem to care for new and important literature," he remarked indignantly. The man who sat next him at table, "No," was the quick response; "you must excuse us if we are indifferent. We do not mean to be discourteous to you but you see, you do not know our Gayley." He is that kind of a wonder, you can't wonder. We consider "our Gayley" capable of doing anything that can be done in the line of literature and of doing it a trifle better than any modern author. That is why we do not wax eloquent over your tale." And now all Berkeley is interested in the coming production of Professor Gayley's play, "The Star of Bethlehem," by Ben Greet's company. Ben Greet has received a great deal of valuable advertising at the university, and he is therefore quite enthusiastic over the for nothing but brutality. Why, even now, Berkeley is charging that Stanford "bought" a well-known sprinter and induced him to enroll himself as a student at Palo Alto so that his flying legs might aid in bringing victory to the cardinal in this year's big contest. That sort of thing is not true sport. It is more in the way of what the dogmen do at Ingleside. Mr. Harrison's criticism of football is entirely across the bay. San Francisco society people have suffered a great deal by the loss of eight-fingered females, but Oakland it is said is a worse home for kleptomaniacs. In that worst city I am told there are at least three women whom every one in society suspects of being addicted to this unpleasant habit. Last season one of the suspected ones, who by her wealth causes her to euphonious and charitably be classed as a "kleptomaniac." The suspicion became so general among a certain set of ladies that this fair kleptomaniac could not leave the room for an instant without having a bar of ladies on her heels. When she bade her hostess good-bye at a tea all those who were "on" would also say good-bye, and hastily follow their interesting friend upstairs. It is said that the kleptomaniac thought that she was suspected, but didn't seem to mind it in the least. On the contrary, she seemed to enjoy the excitement of it. Sometimes, after making her adieu to her hostess, she would spring up the stairs like a cat on a close-fitting elastic web, and her heels pressed her suspicious friends. Even with such regular watchfulness, Miss J. managed to possess herself a great many trinkets. It got to be a regular game of hide and seek, to find out who was suspected and by whom. The Wasp.

nals, no gentleman is ever permitted to appear at a royal dining function without first having donned knee breeches and silk stockings, and the late Queen Victoria's fondness for a display of bare necks was too well known to need more than mentioning.

If only some leader of fashion would cut the pathway to sensible clothing, it might yet be well. But every attempt in that line is pook-hooded and decreed until banished.

For generations, doctors have unanimously agreed that women's clothing is unhealthy. Backaches, headaches, and all sorts of feminine ills and pains, have been laid at the door of tight corsets and heavy skirts.

Yet the world holds up its hands in horror at the sight of a woman in short skirts, which are termed immodest. One would think, from the remarks passed of short-skirted females, that it is the proper caper for women to be born legless. Let, never, until women do wear

William Morris has laid down a wise rule for house furnishing, the following of which would lighten the cares of many a worn-out wife. "Have nothing in your home," advises he, "which you do not know to be useful, or believe to be beautiful."

How many American women follow this rule, I wonder?

The simpler life, under existing conditions, is exceedingly difficult of attainment, unless one is gifted with bravery and, like a good many other things, is easier to preach about than to practice.
